

Jeffersonville Institute

Ninth Annual Event Will Be Held in Jefferson Hall on Wednesday and Thursday of Next Week.

Next Wednesday and Thursday, January 3rd and 4th, are the days of the biggest Farmers' Institute in Fayette county—the Jeffersonville Institute, which will be held in Jefferson hall.

One feature of the Institute which has always added increased interest to the event, the annual corn show, will not be held in connection with the Institute this year, but all of the time will be devoted to the Institute itself. A very interesting program has been arranged.

Four state speakers will address the people upon topics of interest and great value to all. These are: G. C. Housekeeper, Bowling Green, S. W. Burlingame, Sharon; R. S. McKay, Columbus, and Mrs. George Livingston, Columbus. These speakers are highly recommended. Mr. McKay requests farmers to bring samples of diseased fruit trees, vines, etc.

Special music will be furnished by the Williamson Sisters' quartette, from Columbus, and on Thursday evening an entertainment will be given by these well known music makers.

The program arranged is as follows:

WEDNESDAY MORNING 9 A. M.
Music Williamson Sisters
Invocation Rev. Cartwright
President's Address Hon. Reuben Rankin

Used Fraud Scheme To Obtain Goods

Bill Stokes, colored, has been arrested and bound over to the grand jury under $200 bond for obtaining goods under false pretense, and from reports of those whom he has victimized, the charge looks serious for him.

Stokes was arrested upon an affidavit filed by Mr. Amos Thornton, charging him with obtaining 100 bushels of coal under pretense that he had the money to pay for it at once, and later that a certain man owed him money which he would secure and pay over for the coal. This proved to be false, and the man was arrested, taken before Mayor Allen, waived examination and was bound over, being confined in the county jail awaiting action of the grand jury.

It is claimed that nearly a dozen firms throughout the city have been "worked" by Stokes for goods of various value. Stokes is alleged to have said: "I would rather go befoah Judge Carpentah and get six months in h—l than to be tried befoah Rell Allen and get six months in paradise."

LIGHTNING KILLS FEW.

In 1906 lightning killed only 169 people in this whole country. One's chances of death by lightning are less than two in a million. The chance of death from liver, kidney or stomach trouble is vastly greater, but not if Electric Bitters be used, as Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Ia., proved. Four doctors gave him up after eight months of suffering from virulent liver trouble and yellow jaundice. He was then completely cured by Electric Bitters. They're the best stomach, liver, nerve and kidney remedy and blood purifier on earth. Only 50c at Blackmer & Tanquary.

Asks Franchise Extension South Solon Mayor Refuses

Geo. W. Baker Applies for Renewal of Franchise, Meets With Opposition and May Choose Another Route.

Another indication that George W. Baker and his associates mean business in the movement to extend the road to this city, is manifested in the application for renewal of the franchise in South Solon, which expires on December 28, 1911.

Mr. Baker has met with some opposition upon the part of South Solon's mayor who refuses to sign the ordinance. The South Solon reporter make the following explanation of the affair:

"Geo. W. Baker, promoter of the Springfield and Washington traction line, in company with his attorney, Mr. Keifer, met with a majority of the council and Mayor Blessing last Monday morning, for the purpose of extending Mr. Baker's franchise another year. The franchise was not passed upon until the regular session Monday evening, when the entire council voted for the extension, but Mayor Blessing refused to sign the franchise, for the reason that it calls for double tracks, spurs, switches, etc., through the corporation. Mr. Blessing states that it will be an injury to the street and as he resides upon it he believes it would be doing himself an injury. Mr. Baker stated during his stay, that they were very anxious to build the road over this proposed line, but if too many obstacles were encountered would route out another right of way. Mr. Blessing asks that there be nothing but a single track within the limits of the town and declares he will not sign the franchise unless this matter be complied with. The mayor has ten days to sign the article and should he hold out his assertion the old council will lose their vote as their terms of office expire the first of the year. It will then be necessary to issue another franchise as the present one expires December 28th, 1911.

Dillahunt Guilty Goings On Trial

Dr. W. S. G. Dillahunt, of Springfield, who was jointly indicted with Millard Goings, formerly of lower Madison county and known in Fayette, has been found guilty of malpractice, the jury being out only 8 minutes.

Dillahunt is alleged to have performed a criminal operation, and Goings is held for having taken part in the affair. The young woman is still living.

Goings will be tried in the same court which tried Dillahunt, and it is believed that he will be found guilty as charged in the indictment. He was present during the trial of Dillahunt, sat in the audience and smiled and whispered among his friends.

SAVED HIS WIFE'S LIFE.

"My wife would have been in her grave today," writes O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., "if it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery. She was down in her bed, not able to get up without help. She had a severe bronchial trouble and a dreadful cough. I got her a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, and she soon began to mend, and was well in a short time." Infalible for coughs and colds, its the most reliable remedy on earth for desperate lung trouble, hemorrhages, lagrippe, asthma, hay fever, croup and whooping cough. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Blackmer & Tanquary.

OPERATION FOR ADNOIDS.

Dr. H. L. Stitt operated upon Ruth Pugsley, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pugsley, this week for adnoids.

The operation was quite successful and after a two days' stay at the Cherry Hotel the little girl was taken home Wednesday.

Landed Office Doesn't Want It

There is one man in Fayette county who doesn't want to be an office holder, although elected to the office of Justice of the Peace in one of the townships. To him the office is in the same class with the mumps or chicken pox—he wants to get rid of it, but doesn't know how.

In a communication addressed to one of the county officials, this man says: "I would be pleased to be released from the duties of justice, as I was elected against my wishes, was not a candidate in any sense and do not feel like being compelled to accept something that I know I am not in a position to accept. If there is any way out of it, I would like to know it, and will feel obliged to you if you will advise me."

For some unknown reason he seriously objects to holding the office, and it is probable that he will be released.

Hartman Theater

When Louis Mann presents his newest play, "Elevating a Husband," at the Hartman theater Friday and Saturday, January 5-6th, with a matinee on the latter day, theater-goers of Columbus and vicinity will see one of the most interesting characterizations of the eminent player's career. The public has been so accustomed to seeing Mr. Mann in elderly roles, in which he is an undoubted master, that it will be something of a novelty to see him in a part that requires no pronounced change in his personal appearance. Charles Sample, the character which Mr. Mann makes known in "Elevating a Husband," is a young New Yorker, who has built up a successful business, but has neglected to cultivate the gentle arts of polite society. The efforts of Sample's wife to "elevate" him for the society of the intellectuals is the basis for the comedy of the play.

Quite a Difference

Tuesday morning there were 52 persons in the Zanesville court for drunk and disorderly conduct and other offenses.

In this city the number of arrests during the past year was about 125, and for the month of December only three persons were arrested in the city, one being for drunkenness and he came from Springfield.

Not a single arrest was made for intoxication during Christmas time.

The Wonderland Orchestra

Will Give a
New Year Dance

IN THE ARMORY HALL
MONDAY NIGHT

Under the Auspices of Company M.

The climax of a gay holiday season was reached Wednesday night in the twenty-fourth annual dance given by the Elks' lodge.

The New Year's dance is always par excellence the society event of the year, and not since last year has such a brilliant assemblage graced the splendid big ball room. Sixty couples, led by Mr. Louis Saxton and Miss Jean Glascock, formed in the grand march, a long line of kaleidoscopic colors, scintillating in lovely patterns beneath the gleaming lights.

It was after ten o'clock before the ball opened, owing to the music being delayed by the D. T. & I. wreck near Springfield.

When the orchestra engaged, Huffman's orchestra of Springfield, arrived, however, it made ample compensation for lost time. It was the first occasion that this orchestra had played here and decidedly the best dance music in the hall for many a day. The swinging rag time and gay dance airs were immensely popular and the dancers expressed their approval in encore after encore, to which the musicians responded with unusual generosity.

A feature of the ball was the 11 o'clock dance, especially introduced as an Elk innovation, when the electric light effects combined with a beautiful slow waltz created a furor among the dancers.

Holly and bells gave Christmas decoration to the reception room and in the dining room scarlet poinsettias and white chrysanthemums, with greenery were artistically arranged.

The Brannons catered, serving an excellent two course supper.

The Elks' social session committee, H. T. Baker, C. A. Gossard and Carl Mallow, supervised the various arrangements of the ball.

The splendid music spurred the dancers till the wee small hours before another New Year's dance, with its prestige and pleasure, was relegated to the past.

A number of out of town guests were in attendance.

Mrs. John Merriweather gave an elegant one o'clock dinner Thursday in honor of the eighteenth birthday of her daughter, Miss Frances.

The pretty decorations were all of the Christmas-tide.

The dinner guests included Misses

Ruth and Dorothy Waters, Hazel Post, Ruth Smith, Elizabeth DeWees, Anna Conner, Margaret Johnson, Bertha Townsley. Mrs. Merriweather was assisted by Miss Fannie McLean and Miss Elsie Craig.

Mrs. Werter Shoop is giving delightful holiday entertainment to the Wednesday club this afternoon and entertains the Friday club tomorrow.

The Girls' Embroidery club, of Bloomingburg, celebrated the holidays with a delightful Christmas party Wednesday night. The twenty girls of the club invited twenty young men for a "Progressive supper," an elaborate two course affair, attended with bright yule-tide adornment.

The first course was served at the home of Miss Lucile Jefferson, where the guests enjoyed cordial hospitality. At ten o'clock the second course was served at the home of Miss Helen Hays and the evening enjoyably wound up in dancing and songs.

Among the guests from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McCoy, Murfreesboro, Tenn.; Miss Pavey, Sabina; Miss Helen Scott, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jefferson, Columbus; Will Jefferson, Cincinnati; Harry McCoy and Leland Haines, Miami University; Walter Larrimer, O. S. U.; Lloyd Holden, of Wapakoneta.

JONES—MARINE.

Mr. Charles W. Jones, a well-known farmer of Good Hope, and Miss Lucy E. Marine, also of Good Hope, were quietly married by Rev. R. C. Orndorff, at his residence in Millwood Wednesday evening at half-past six o'clock.

Both young people have many friends in Fayette county and are receiving warm congratulations.

Mr. Troy Junk, of Austin, attended the New Year's dance.

Miss Clara Barr, of Greenfield, is the guest of Miss Hilda Kyle.

Mr. Frank Sage, of Cincinnati, was a guest for the New Year's ball.

Mr. George Melvin, of Columbus, was a business visitor here Wednesday.

Mr. Irwin Dunlap, of the Dunlap Pony Co., Greenfield, was a business visitor here Thursday.

Miss Zelma Leath returned from spending Christmas at her home in Bainbridge Wednesday.

Miss Ruth Harps, of Greenfield, was Miss Nina Bonham's guest for the New Year's dance.

Miss Edith Deffner, of Greenfield, was among the out-of-town guests for the Elks' dance, Wednesday evening.

Misses Leah and L. Etta Rannels and Mr. Hugh Hildebrandt were in Wilmington yesterday attending the marriage of their niece and cousin, Miss Sara Rannels to Mr. Rendel Terrell, of New Vienna.

Mrs. A. M. Bush returned Wednesday night from a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Wilson, in Greenfield. Dr. Bush joined his wife for Christmas at the home of his mother, Mrs. J. C. Templeton.

Mrs. H. E. Thompson and daughter, Miss Elizabeth, visited in Springfield the first of the week. Miss Thompson returned Wednesday night. Mrs. Thompson Thursday morning, bringing back with her Mrs. J. D. Thompson and daughter, Elizabeth, for a visit.

Miss Nell Dollinger is the guest of Miss Urcel Stitt, of Bloomingburg, for holiday week. Miss Stitt and Miss Dollinger were the guests of Miss Stitt's brother, Dr. H. L. Stitt for the New Year's ball.

Mrs. C. H. Murray starts home Friday after a three months' visit with her son, Shep Murray and wife, in Los Angeles, Cal. Enroute she will spend New Year's with her son, Fay, in San Francisco, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sanders left Wednesday for Long Beach, Cal., where they expect to spend a couple of months with relatives. Enroute they will stop in Omaha, Kansas, and Salt Lake City, Utah.

Miss Georgiana Hammer, of Detroit, Mich., is spending the Christmas vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hammer, while Miss Wilma Hammer is visiting her brother, Raymond, in Cleveland.

Miss Helen McKay, of Milledgeville, will be Miss Nina Bonham's guest the remainder of the week. Miss McKay is studying music at Dayton and home for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bell left Thursday for Chicago, where they will spend New Year's with friends and Mrs. Bell may remain for a longer visit.

Mr. Lee Keller and family, of Sandusky, are spending the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. George Bybee and Mr. Perry Keller and family.

Miss Dorothy Smith is entertaining Misses Edna and Helen Head, of Greenfield, for the dance and holiday week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Frazer were over from Xenia to attend the New Year's dance and visit Mrs. Frazer's mother, Mrs. J. P. Harsha.

Robert Ogle is spending the holidays the guest of Miss Mabel Brown, in Owensboro, Ky.

Marion Whelpley is visiting her uncle, Mr. Ed Whelpley and wife, in Columbus.

James Sutherland and Seney Blue were guests from Frankfort for the New Year's dance.

Robert Waters was down from Mt. Sterling to attend the dance Wednesday evening.

THE BATTLE IS ON.

Although the people of Ohio held an election, very recently, another campaign is on, and like the circuses, it is promised to be bigger than any which has gone before.

The primaries of both leading political parties must be held in May. At these primaries in addition to the full complement of state and county officials, there must be selected candidates for representative in congress and delegates to the National convention of the two leading parties.

While the contest for the gubernatorial nominations will be no child's play and in many of the congressional districts throughout the state the fight for the nomination for representative in congress will be no small potatoes, yet the big fight promises now to be for the delegates to the National convention—both Republican and Democratic—and it is this battle which has already passed beyond the skirmish line and developed into a real artillery duel.

Only a few short months ago it looked like a sure thing that Ohio would furnish both the Republican and Democratic standard bearers in the 1912 battle of ballots, but so swiftly have the scenes and the battle lines shifted that it would not be surprising if neither came to Ohio for its candidate.

Decided opposition has developed against both President Taft and Governor Harmon in the ranks of their own parties.

The opposition to a renomination of the President has its source in Wisconsin, with Senator La Follette as the official announcer, and rumor is persistent that one of the large tributaries starts from Oyster Bay.

This opposition has spread into Ohio and the invading forces of the opposition to the President have found powerful allies in the Buckeye state.

With Senator La Follette and Senator Clapp already on the stump "the administration" has the unpleasant distinction of fighting at the outset of the campaign for its very foothold.

Governor Harmon has always encountered, since the Cleveland administration, decided opposition in the rank and file of Ohio Democrats, and that opposition has grown in size and strength during his incumbency as governor.

Whether that opposition will suffer the Ohio delegation to the Democratic National convention to go to the governor without a fight is still a matter of some doubt. The record of Judson Harmon's administration as governor has, in the main, been satisfactory to his partisans, but not to the party leaders.

Unlike the opponents to the nomination of President Taft the opponents of Governor Harmon have, as yet, not determined on the man upon whom they will concentrate, and until that is done there is not much hope of keeping the governor out of the Ohio endorsement.

It is unusual to have the campaign open so early, but the "antis" in both parties seem eager for the fray and have already begun the fight.

The people of Ohio, because this state promised to be the preliminary battlefield for both parties, may as well settle down to their fate.

From now on they will hear more "progressive" talk and more definitions of that much used and much abused word than can be found in all the dictionaries published.

There will be all sorts of "progressives" on exhibition from now on and every one will admit that he is a progressive and the only true type.

For those who love oratory, both old style and new style, and of either political brand, there will be an abundance on tap from this time on.

To see both the "favorite sons" of Ohio changed from sure winners to certain losers during the campaign which may now be said to be on in full blast, is, while it may be unpleasant to many, not an improbable turn of the now rapidly spinning fortune wheel of politics.

While the battle against President Taft is being waged in the open, yet the one now on against Governor Harmon is not less deep seated and determined. The latter may not assume the same battle front, but that it is on in deadly earnest no one who keeps posted on current political events, will question.

Decided and open opposition has developed in the partisan press against the Governor's presidential aspiration.

An account of the manner in which the Manchus were massacred at Hankow, China, greatly impressed me. To make sure of the identity of their victims the Chinese rebels hit upon the difference in the Chinese and Manchu pronunciation and compelled the victim to count, and when he pronounced the numeral 6 in the Manchu manner death descended upon him. Thus was the word "Laishiliu," the Chinese for "six," made to serve as judge and executioner.

This event recalls to my mind part of chapter 12 of the books of Judges in the Old Testament. It reads as follows: "Then said they unto him, say now shibboleth and he said shibboleth, for he could not frame to pronounce it right. Then they took him and slew him at the passages of Jordan; and there fell at that time forty and two thousand."

It seems peculiar that this ghastly act of hundreds of years ago should be repeated in the twentieth century.

Poetry-Today

A DOCTOR MAN.

It's very often that my pa
Stays out all the night long;
They say it ought to worry ma,
'Cause it's jus' awful wrong.
But he don't care what all them folks
Says 'bout it, an' he can
Jus' sit an' laugh at all their jokes,
'Cause he's a doctor man.

He talks to other wimmen all
Th' time an' ma don't care;
An' every day he makes a call
To see some lady fair.
Th' neighbors says he takes 'em rides
Nen he laughs at it an'
Jus' keeps it up an' splits his sides,
'Cause he's a doctor man.

He holds their hands an' smiles so
Nice,
An' asks 'em how they feel,
Nen wimmen sneak 'round, sly as
mice.

An' give ma a long spiel
'Bout how bad pa is, an' nen she
Jus' laughs an' giggles an'
Tells him when he comes home, you see.

'Cause he's a doctor man.

perfect because of the enormous loads of watered stock they intended to carry. In 1902 they were forced to abandon their plans after each had pledged $1,000,000 in securities for the combine because E. H. Harriman and other capitalists refused to contribute $90,000,000 to a scheme capitalized at $750,000,000 and which carried less than $200,000,000 of actual values.

Veeder Produces Records.

Under examination by Attorney Pierce Butler for the government, Veeder produced the records leading up to the formation of the National Packing company. A series of contracts and options showed that during June, 1902, the United Beef company, the Fowler Packing company, the Hammond properties and the St. Louis Dressed Beef and Provisions company were acquired by the defendants. Thus the packers secured property capitalized at $300,000,000, 17,000,000 acres of ranch lands and a number of banks. Later, the Sulzberger company was acquired, and all these concerns were operated through the National Packing company.

Veeder then showed that after Harriman had refused to advance $90,000,000 for a beef combine in June, 1902, the packers took the question up with Kuhn, Loeb & Company, Jacob H. Schiff and the Stillman Standard oil interest, and in December, 1902, these interests advanced the funds. Six months later the National Packing company was launched.

Attorney Butler brought out that Kuhn, Loeb & Company and the Stillman interests advanced $15,000,000. The packers contributed $8,000,000 to the combination. The $15,000,000 was repaid within three years. According to District Attorney Wilkerson the government will show that the loan was repaid out of hidden profits. It is declared that while statements showed that one of these National Packing subsidiaries lost $1,500,000 during its first year, it really made a profit of $5,000,000 in the three years before the loan was repaid.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Kills Man and Escapes.

Columbus, O., Dec. 28.—Sam Case, 29, a blacksmith helper, unmarried, died at a local hospital from a bullet wound in his head. Clarence King, 30, a one-eyed plasterer, who makes his home with his mother at Hilliards, is being sought by the police as the murderer. The shooting occurred in a saloon.

Blacksmith Ends Life.

Springfield, O., Dec. 28.—Richard N. Stickney, 59, a blacksmith of Sugar Grove, was found dead, seated in a chair in the cellar of his blacksmith shop, with a bullet hole in his head. Suicide is suspected, although no motive is known. He is survived by his wife.

Thugs Hold Up Saloon Crowd.

Columbus, O., Dec. 28.—Held up in true wild west style by three masked men, armed with revolvers, C. G. Hite and six men who were in his saloon, near the Norfolk & Western tracks, were robbed of more than $100.

Canton Man Is Wanted.

Canton, O., Dec. 28.—The Stark county officials have asked the police of St. Paul, Minn., to arrest William R. Shaver, president of the Golden Rule Coupon company of Canton, on a charge of forgery.

Begin Clipping the Coupons to Take Advantage of Aid of Education—Mistakes are Serious.

The heads of 75 per cent. of the large business interests of Washington know that the chief educational need of their employees is a better knowledge of English, including spelling, grammar and punctuation and the use of words in general.

Stenographers crowd to answer an advertisement announcing a position paying $6 a week, because they are not qualified to demand higher wages. Thousands of stenographers and typewriters trained in the art of making "pot hooks" and tapping the typed keys are eking out an existence on meager wages.

These statements have a direct bearing upon the proposition that The Washington Daily Herald is offering in the shape of a genuine Webster's New Revised Standard Dictionary.

The dictionary is acknowledged by educators to be the best and quickest way in acquiring such a knowledge of the English language as everyone ought to possess.

Get out of the $6 class. Or, if you are not so poorly paid as that, at least get busy and take advantage of the opportunity which is already bringing dozens to the office of The Washington Daily Herald to inspect the books. Everybody expresses delight with the appearance and character of the dictionary offered and seems eager to start clipping the necessary coupons from consecutive issues of The Washington Daily Herald.

Get a dictionary. Get a Webster's New Revised Standard Dictionary, the best on the market. Start clipping The Washington Daily Herald's coupons at once. Don't delay.

One misspelled or misused word may lose you the confidence of your employer, or bring on the ridicule of your associates or competitors.

Six coupons clipped from consecutive issues of The Washington Daily Herald and the small expense bonus specified in the display advertisement on another page of this issue will get you the book, and permit you to turn the tables upon what you have regarded as misfortune, when it was only your own ignorance weighing upon you and the limitations of your vocabulary holding you down.

Mistakes may be fatal to friendship and business relations. Start clipping coupons today.

History Repeats Itself In Chinese Uprising

By B. G. BERNSTEIN

Old Testament. It reads as follows: "Then said they unto him, say now shibboleth and he said shibboleth, for he could not frame to pronounce it right. Then they took him and slew him at the passages of Jordan; and there fell at that time forty and two thousand."

It seems peculiar that this ghastly act of hundreds of years ago should be repeated in the twentieth century.

USELESS.

"What do you consider the most useless thing in the world?"
"Being the father of the bridegroom at a wedding."

Rice Pudding Made With-out Eggs

Take 1 teacup of rice, wash, pour boiling water over and let stand five minutes. Throw off, add a cup of sugar, little nutmeg or teaspoon of vanilla extract and 2 quarts of milk. Bake slowly 2 hours, stirring occasionally until last half hour, then brown. It is creamy and lovely.

Pad Embroidery With Cotton Cord.

In embroidering use cotton cable cord for padding the buttonhole stitches. It is much easier than the old way of using filling in stitches.

Use For Old Shirtwaists

Shirtwaists that are out of style and material too good to throw away can be made into little boys' blouses, aged 5, 6 and 7 years. Cut the seams open, take out the gathers at waist line. You can make the style opening down the front or side, using the same hems for buttons and buttonholes, just cutting the sleeve over. You will be surprised what nice blouses you can make with little work.

Fig and Date Pudding

Steam one pound figs and one pound dates broken into small pieces two hours. Put on bread board, mix with just enough powdered sugar to hold together, and work in gradually one pound English walnuts broken into pieces. Mold in a long roll. Slice and serve cold with whipped cream or hard sauce.

Guimpe Finish.

A piece of bobbin stitched over the raw edge turned up once makes a neat and a strong finish for the bottom of guimpes. Bobbin in various widths may be used in many ways both on new sewing and for mending clothing.

To Disinfect a Carpet.

If any article of the household furniture requires disinfecting occasionally it is a carpet, especially if it has been used a considerable time. The following is a method recommended both as a disinfectant and a preventive of moths. Add three tablespoonfuls of turpentine to three quarts of water, saturate a large sponge with this mixture, squeeze it almost two-thirds dry and go over the carpet carefully. As soon as the sponge becomes dirty, cleanse it and immerse in the turpentine and water again. You will be surprised to see how bright and new it will make the carpet.

CRAB BISQUE—Select four large heavy hard shell crabs; drop them into boiling water and boil for half an hour, drain and cool. Open them, remove the meat and chop it very fine. Pound the shells, boil them for half an hour in three pints of good white stock and strain through a cloth. Return the stock to the fire, add the crab meat and one scant cupful of well washed rice. Cook slowly for three quarters of an hour and rub through a sieve. Reheat, season to taste, add one cupful of cream. Simmer for five minutes longer and serve.

CORN PUDDING—Corn Pudding will require sufficient scraped or grated corn to measure one quart, one cupful or more of milk (according to the age and milkiness of the corn), and a high seasoning of salt and pepper. To this add three well beaten eggs, three tablespoonfuls of sifted flour, three tablespoonfuls of butter, melted, and one teaspoonful of sugar. Pour the batter into a pudding dish and bake for one hour and a half in a slow oven.

NUT LOAF—Two cupfuls of stale bread crumbs, one cupful and a half of chopped or ground nuts, one scant teaspoonful of salt. Mix thoroughly and add sufficient hot water to moisten; cover and let stand for ten minutes, add one cupful more of hot water and turn into a buttered tin. Bake one hour in a moderate oven and serve cold.

SUCCOTASH—Old time succotash is made with shelled lima beans and corn cut from the cob. Put the beans on in as little water as possible, adding salt and pepper to season; when half done—in about twenty minutes—add a double amount of raw corn cut from the cob, and continue simmering until done. This may be slightly thickened with flour and butter and milk added.

Many of the new parasols are in bordered effects—pongee silks with bands of Persian or Dresden satins or perhaps a border of plain colored taffeta.

A number of pretty skirts have the slash at the side or side front which gives opportunity for display of fetching footgear.

ON THE ROAD TO RECOVERY.

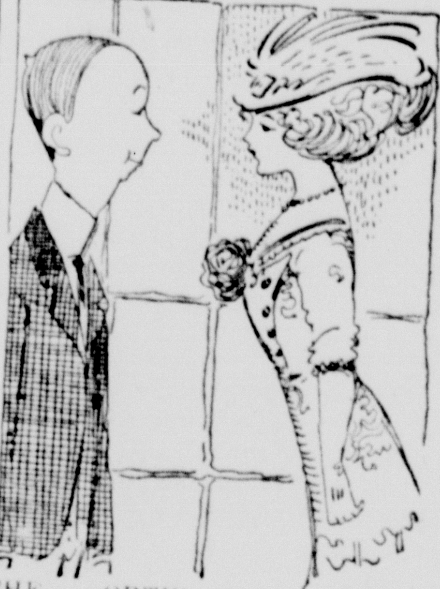

There were certain traits which distinguished Miss Amanda Lowry from most of her neighbors, and although not all of them were admirable traits, they were Miss Amanda's, and therefore accepted lovingly by her friends. When she was taken suddenly ill with pneumonia, the village was in great distress.

"I went to see her just a minute," said a tearful friend, "and she scarcely looked at me. I don't think she really sensed I was there. But yet they say she's a mite better. If she can only get some strength into her. The fever's gone but she lacks interest, she's so weak."

A few days later, still tearful, but joyous, the same friend made a more encouraging report.

"She looked at me, Amanda did, where I sat, way across the room, and then she beckoned to me. 'You go take a look at yourself in the glass,' she said, 'and tell me if you've got your brooch on straight. It looks crooked to the left, to me.'"

"And 'twas!" said the neighbor, wiping her eyes. "She could hardly speak above a whisper, but when I'd straightened it, she said, 'That's all right,' and turned over and went to sleep. She's going to get well!"—Youth's Companion.

THE LAST ORDER'S POINT OF VIEW.

"Seen the fall styles yet?"
"Not in detail, but I understand the press humorist won't have any cause for complaint."

Teaching Chivalry.

My little boy has been very chivalrous in his attitude toward me. This trait I make use of now, when he comes from school saying, as most small boys do at one time or another, "I don't like the teacher." I talk about the large number of little boys the teacher has under her charge, how tired she must get, how much she needs strong, manly little boys to help her, and my son decides at once that he'd like to be a brave, strong knight to protect the teacher. He always goes back in a helpful frame of mind.

To Elemental!

Euclid was boasting of his prowess. "Here's one," remarked his wife. "If we pay Bridget $25 per month and a neighbor offers her $25 how long will she stay?"
With a wail, he fled into the night.

On the Spur of the Moment.

"Waiter these eggs are as hard as a stone. I told you not to boil them more than three minutes and a half."
"Yes, sir; that's just the time they were in, to a second, but the—aw—water was hard, sir."

A Peculiar Dog.

Brown—"My latest canine is a hardware dog."
Smith—"Explain yourself, Beatrice."
Smith—"Well, every time I kick him he makes a bolt for the door."
(Pity the humorist, fair reader, as he is an orphan.)

Prepared.

"Gracious, what is all that crepe for?"
"I had a chance to get it at a bargain, and, you know, my husband goes in for flying!"—London Opinion.

Juvenile Misapprehension.

"Papa," whispered Johnny, who was in attendance at the Sunday morning services, "why do the people look so sad when they drop their money in that plate?"

His Experience.

Hink—"Dink has been in hundreds of revolutions."
Hank—"South America?"
Hink—"He runs a Ferris wheel."

Aims Darts at The Courts

plan for federal regulation of prices as a relief from monopoly. Mr. LaFollette said he had no patience with this method. In his analysis he went further and said that ultimately the government would have to fix prices of labor, hours of employment and compensation of original producers in order to fix accurately the prices to be offered the consumers.

Instead of the Gary plan or the Taft plan of a federal license for incorporations, Senator LaFollette proposed his own plan for a commission on restraints of trade to relieve the country of the condition in which he finds it. The senator saw great evil in the growth of the trusts.

Although Senator LaFollette made no direct reference to the president nor suggested his own candidacy, he included in his speech a denunciation of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, immediately following his praise of labor organization, and his opinion that the Sherman anti-trust law did not contemplate their regulation.

Law Works One Way.

"It is a curious fact about the enforcement of the law," he said, "that while the courts have carefully protected investors in trusts against loss in values, the only instance where the extreme penalty of three-fold damages has been imposed is in the case of a labor organization. The court has gone to the extent of seizing upon the savings of members of a labor organization and has ordered that these little investments should be paid over as far as they go toward giving the employers three times the damages that the union had caused them. Certainly it is very strange that when the court goes to its furthest limit in imposing penalties on combinations of capital the capitalist owners get away with the full value of their property, even though the court explicitly says the biggest ones committed crimes in getting it, but when the court goes to the same limit in enforcing penalties on combinations of labor, it takes away the homes and small savings of the guilty members. A law which treats investors as innocent if they form a trust and guilty if they form a labor union does not command the respect nor appeal to the sense of justice of the American people."

"The passage of the Payne-Aldrich bill was the most outrageous assault of private interests upon the people recorded in tariff history," he said.

He criticized the proposed National Reserve association of the Aldrich monetary plan. "The greatest menace to competition at the present time is control of credits and the concentration of money in the hands of those who control the trusts," he continued.

The initiative, referendum and recall were strongly acclaimed as cardinal principles of the progressives by Senator LaFollette, while an appeal was also made for Democrats to join the progressive movement as the only true Democracy.

In his speech at Youngstown Senator LaFollette spoke on "Self-Government and the Trusts."

Well Received at Norwalk.

DEATH OF MRS. WILLIAM CAMPBELL

With shocking suddenness comes the sad news from Los Angeles, Cal., of the death of Mrs. Ethel Dahl Campbell, wife of Mr. William Campbell, in the 39th year of her age, Tuesday night at the Good Samaritan Hospital.

Mrs. Campbell and her eleven-year-old daughter, Virginia, left here in October, hoping that a winter in the softer climate of Los Angeles would benefit Virginia's health. A week after their arrival Mrs. Campbell was taken violently ill.

The trouble was thought at first to be acute indigestion, but developed into intestinal trouble. She suffered intensely, but after weeks of expert specialists and skillful nursing in the hospital, was thought to be out of danger. She had so improved that she was able to leave the hospital and join her sister, Mrs. T. W. Marchant at the hotel, and was able to be taken out in a wheeled chair until a few days ago, when the relapse came, which led to the end.

Mrs. Marchant went to her sister six weeks ago when she was first taken ill, and was constantly with her and her little daughter.

The circumstances are particularly sad, a young woman, having so much in life for which to live and dying so far from home and family.

Mrs. Campbell was the youngest child of the late George Dahl and leaves besides her husband and one child, her widowed mother, one brother, Mr. H. B. Dahl, and one sister, Mrs. T. W. Marchant.

Mrs. Marchant left Thursday morning at 9 o'clock over the Santa Fe road bringing the remains to Mrs. Campbell's home here. She is accompanied by the little daughter, Virginia, and her aunt, Mrs. M. V. Logan, who has been spending several months with her grandson, Mr. Shep Murray.

They are expected to arrive here Monday morning. Mr. Campbell and Mr. C. H. Murray will meet them in Chicago and accompany them home.

Funeral arrangements will be announced upon their arrival.

New Standard Oil Head Clerked in Leesburg Store

John D. Archbold Says Foundation of Successful Career Was Laid in Grocery and That Women Beat Him in Deals.

It is not generally known that John D. Archbold, looked upon as the present head of the Standard Oil Co. and a multi-millionaire of the most successful stamp, was born and spent the early portion of his life in and near Leesburg, just over the line in Highland county, and that he attributes his success in life to the shrewdness required by the grocery clerk of his day, when prices were on a sliding scale and grocersmen received what they could for an article.

The following interesting article in which the noted financier speaks of his life in Leesburg, is taken from the "New York Day by Day" column of Thursday's Time-Star:

Every now and then John D. Archbold—whose brain is considered in Standard Oil only second to that of John D. Rockefeller—slices off a thick wedge of his fortune and confers it upon some deserving institution. But it is to be observed that Mr. Archbold always does the slicing. No one ever hurries up and takes money away from him. And when he is engaged in a business undertaking he can figure costs and credits down to the ultimate decimal. "I learned to do that in Leesburg, Ohio, where I was born," said he to a friend. "I began my business life by clerking in a grocery store in Ohio. The wives of farmers would come in with eggs and butter and trade them for calico and sugar and other commodities. In those days there was no such thing as a one price rule. We got what we could—and, as markets had not been systematized as they are now, and transportation facilities were poor, we paid what we had to, and roughly tried to figure out a profit. One could not take a slate and half an hour and do that figuring in the rear of the store, either. It had to be done right off the reel, and convincingly. I've learned a lot of other things in business since then, but the best training I ever had was in that little Ohio grocery store. It taught me the value of absolute knowledge of the details of my business."

Someone suggested that Mr. Archbold probably laid the foundation of his fortune there.

"Let me tell you," said he, impressively. "There is a lot of good financial talent going to waste on Ohio farms. Most of those farmers' wives skinned me."

Service Commission Turns Down C. H. & D.

Much local interest attaches to the hearing given the C. H. & D. railroad Wednesday, before the Service Commission, when the commission refused to see things the way the officials of the road wanted them to in regard to the issuance of $425,000.

The commission held that the company's total indebtedness should be considered as a debt against that part of the system owned entirely by the C. H. & D. This is 372 miles or a little more than one-third of the entire system of over 1,000 miles.

The commission thought the debt should be held against the entire system instead of only part of it.

Sale of D. T. & I. Again Postponed

The foreclosure sale of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad, set for January 9th, has again been postponed, April 9th being the new date of sale. This was agreed to by U. S. District Judge Angell.

This is the third time the date of sale has been fixed, the first date being October 5th. The postponement made Wednesday was in accordance with a petition filed by the New York Trust company, holding second mortgage bonds.

It is thought that the bondholders' interests are not inclined to take over the road, and that no prospective purchasers have showed up on the horizon.

More Wrecks On the D. T. & I.

The D. T. & I. has been crippled this week by another bad freight wreck just out of Springfield, where a number of cars left the track, causing so much confusion that a new track was constructed around the wreck in order to allow the congested freight to move.

Wednesday a freight engine, rounding the wreck on the new track, toppled over, completely tying up all traffic, both freight and passenger. A wrecker was called to the scene but did not get the road open to traffic until late Thursday.

Transfers of passengers and baggage was made around the wreck, and all passenger trains ran on whatever schedule they could, meeting at the wreck and making the transfer.

XMAS MEETING W. C. T. U.

The Christmas meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held Wednesday afternoon with the president, Mrs. W. W. Davies.

The weather prevented a large attendance, but much interest was manifested in different features of the work before the society, such as the Constitutional amendment to the convention and the county convention to be held in our city, the 5th, 6th and 7th of March.

Action was taken on plans for that meeting and there was discussion of past work done by the W. C. T. U. and the women who were connected with that work, as well as the possibilities for it in the future. Mrs. Taggart, of Jeffersonville, county president, was the presiding officer.

DULL MID-WINTER DAYS IN SPORTS

WANTS TO FIGHT M'FARLANE

Rudy Unholz, Former Boer Champion Wants Match With Clever Little Chicago Fighter.

One fighter is glad that Packey McFarlane has returned from the Pacific coast because he would like very much to get on a match with him. That fighter is Rudy Unholz, former Boer champion, but now a prosperous truck and chicken farmer in the vicinity of Denver, Colo. Unholz is willing to take on any of them and if some of the matchmakers are willing to stage him with Packey he would be glad to consider the match as good as made right now. Failing in that Rudy will consider matches with any of the other light weights.

American Cyclists to Go Abroad. Jackie Clarke, Iver Lawson and Worth Mitten have been secured to go to Australia to take part in a six day bicycle race in Sydney next January. It will be held on an outdoor cricket grounds on a three-lap-to-the-mile track. The winning team will receive $5,000. Clarke will have as his partner Gordon Walker. Others who will go from this country for the race are Alfred Goulet and P. Hehir. The tourists may also take part in the Australian wheel race, worth $500 to the winner, and sprinting events which will be run off.

CAMP'S ALL-AMERICAN SELECTIONS

First Team.	Pos.	Second Team.

Fisher, Harvard	L. G.	Scrubby, Chicago
Ketcham, Yale	C.	Bluthenthal, Princeton
Duff, Princeton	R. G.	McDevitt, Yale

Howe, Yale	Q.	Sprackling, Brown
Wendell, Harvard	L. H.	Morey, Dartmouth
Thorpe, Carlisle	R. H.	Camp, Yale
Dalton, Navy	F. B.	Rosenwald, Minnesota

Walter Camp, the so-called dean of American football, in picking his All-American football team for 1911, has confined his first team selections to players who have been members of eastern teams. Not one western player is mentioned of the first eleven.

Princeton and Yale are given three places each on the mythical all-star eleven, Harvard two, and the Army, Navy and Carlisle one each.

One selection of Camp's which is hardly likely to meet with popular opinion is that of Dalton for full-back. While there is no question but that Dalton is entitled to a place on the first team, there is considerable doubt as to whether or not he should be considered as a fullback. All through the season Dalton starred as a halfback, and many critics are prone to believe that it is not a question as to what a man might do in some position, other than that in which he played, but what he had done in some position.

On the second team the west is given representation by the presence of Scrubby, the great Chicago kicker, and Rosenwald of Minnesota. Camp, Jr., is placed on the second team, as is Sprackling of Cleveland, who was named in 1910 as All-American quarterback.

BOXERS LACK ONE ESSENTIAL

Some Are Shy of Intelligence, While Others Are Deficient in Game-ness in Ring.

"To my way of thinking a fighter who is deficient in the brain department is just as badly handicapped as the fellow who lacks heart," said Hug Slattery at a little session of fistic celebrities in Jimmy Dunn's gymnasium yesterday afternoon.

"Who are you driving at now, Mr. Slattery?" asked Tommy McGinly, the clever lightweight boxer, who is Dunn's principal instructor at the gym.

"I have no particular pugilist in mind," replied the sport philosopher. "I am speaking in a general way. You know we have in the fighting game boys who are naturally timid and who could never learn to be game. Such fellows sometimes get to be topnotchers because they have everything else. They may have speed, skill and the punch and lack game-ness and still get along all right. Such fellows, as a rule, are seldom called upon to stand a severe test as to game-ness, for they are so clever, and so fast that other fighters can't hurt them."

"But usually such boxers are much better in a gymnasium than in a real ring contest. Steve O'Donnell, the Australian heavyweight, and Bob Armstrong, were good illustrations of this type. They were two of the fastest and most skillful big fellows in the history of pugilism, but outside of a gymnasium they were absolutely no good. I have seen Bob Armstrong make Fitzsimmons look like a fool in gymnasium workouts, while in the real battle Fitz would lick him in a round. O'Donnell was the same way. He used to make them all look cheap at the training camps, but in the ring he could hardly ever get started. Peter Maher knocked him out twice in less than two or three minutes, for no other reason than that Steve's heart failed him before entering the ring. He was good enough to beat fellows like Maher with the greatest of ease. If O'Donnell had been a game man Peter Maher could never have placed a glove on him. I have known many of the same sort."

"Your dope is dead right on that score, Bug," said big Al Williams, Dunn's white hope, "for I have met men who boxed both O'Donnell and Armstrong."

HOWARD WILL FIGHT CHANGE

Former Manager of the Louisville American Association Team Refuses to Be Exchanged.

Former Manager Del Howard of the Louisville team, is going to make a hard fight against any effort that Manager Jack Tighe of the Colonels may make toward disposal of his services. Tighe was in Louisville and announced that Howard would be sold. A close friend of the former leader says Howard had a restrictive contract, with a provision that in case he be deposed as manager he should be given his release as a player. However, President Grayson has not carried out any such agreement if there be one. Howard, Grayson states, cost him $25,000 as a player when purchased from the Cubs.

WAITING FOR IT

Having a pressing engagement with a good client, an oil merchant was obliged to leave his office in sole charge of a scrubwoman.

"Now, my good woman," he said, indicating the telephone, "when you hear the bell ring attached to that little box, just go to the tube and shout, 'Hello! Who are you?' and wait for a reply."

The merchant had been gone about half an hour when the telephone bell rang furiously. The woman rushed to the tube, shouted out the necessary query, and put the receiver to her ear. "I'm Dobson, from Harlem," came the answer. "Got a lot of oil for you, and wish to send it on at once. Be ready to receive it."

Presently the merchant returned and, to his amazement, saw the woman holding an empty bucket under the telephone tube.

"What on earth are you doing with that pail?" he asked.

"Well, sir," she replied, "as soon as you was gone a man shouted through the tube that he was sending a large supply of oil, and ask some one to receive it, so I'm a-holding this bucket a-waiting for it to run through!"

REMORSE

"What is remorse, pa?" "Remorse, my son, is the feeling that comes over a man in July when he remembers how he found fault with the cold and blustery days of March."

ON THE JOB

"I tell you you can't beat my wife for presence of mind," said the man at the club, proudly. "Listen to this. One day last week an old gossip of our neighborhood called, and I left her and wife alone in the parlor."

"An hour later, having the impression that our caller had departed, I bounded into the room with, 'So the old cat has gone, eh?' Well, as I lifted my eyes, there was the woman herself in front of me. But my wife—bless her—was there with the goods."

"Yes, dear," she said, calmly, "I sent it to the cats' home in a basket first thing this morning."

HIS CHANCE

"Say, pop, what is meant by letting well enough alone?" "A good example of it is when an unmarried man just continues to remain single."

THE PERILOUS YEARS.

Justice Ford of New York was discussing his famous dictum: "In my opinion it takes about five years for the ordinary couple to learn to overlook each other's faults." He said: "After five years of marriage a spirit of gentleness and loving kindness manifests itself. But in the first two or three years a spirit of the bitterest disillusion prevails."

"This bitter spirit was well illustrated in a dialogue wherein a young wife sobbed, 'And you used to say that you could hear the rustle of angels' wings whenever I drew near you!'"

"But I've found out now," the husband sneered, "that the sound was only the creaking of your broken corset bones."

HIS FATE.

"There goes Wobbs. He had some fixed opinions until he married that suffrage leader." "What became of his opinions then?" "She fixed them."

A western representative in congress was talking one day of his record while in that body. "I am not ashamed of it," said he. "I think I've done very well, on the whole. When I reflect upon it, I am reminded of an epitaph that I saw once in an old burying-ground in a country town of my state."

Fitch's Grains of Health

The Coffee Substitute With the Coffee Taste

The only substitute in all the world that has the coffee flavor and the coffee satisfaction—without one of coffee's bad after-effects. In coffee, it is caffeine that causes all the trouble. In Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH a special high-grade blend of coffee is so combined with roots, herbs and vegetables that the caffeine is counteracted. The combination has a health building effect. Physicians recommend it. Even children can drink it. Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH is sold by all leading grocers. The price is 30 cents the pound package. It is ground, ready for use. It is just as easy to prepare as coffee. But only half as much of Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH is required as coffee. Therefore it costs only half as much as good coffee.

If your grocer cannot supply you, write us, mentioning his name, and we will send you a generous sample package of Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH (enough to serve a large family at breakfast) and a booklet telling you all about Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH. Enclose 6 cents in stamps for postage.

AIMS DARTS AT THE COURTS

Senator LaFollette Attacks Recent Trust Decisions.

CLEVELAND SPEECH IS CAUSTIC

Wisconsin Man Now Touring Ohio in Quest of Delegates to Republican National Convention Sees Little Good in Existing Conditions, but Has Cure For Trust Evils—Thinks Labor Unions Exempt From Operation of Sherman Law.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 28. — With an attack on the supreme court, an attack on the Republican national committee, an arraignment of the trusts and an enunciation of his ideas for the cure of the evils of the present system of government, Senator Robert M. LaFollette opened his speaking campaign for the Republican presidential nomination in this city. The criticism of the supreme court was the most bitter yet heard from the Wisconsin senator. It was predicated on the recent rulings of the court in the Standard Oil and Tobacco cases. The rule of reason he denounced as a "profound revolution in the position of the courts." "Surely the court does not expect the people to take it seriously," he said, concluding his criticism. From this Mr. LaFollette launched his discussion of Elbert H. Gary's (Continued on Page Five.)

PIKE COUNTY DRY TRIUMPH AT POLLS

Waverly and Four Precincts Favor Return of Saloons.

Waverly, O., Dec. 27.—By a majority of 537, Pike county, in its second election under the Rose law voted to remain in the dry column. The unfavorable weather cut down the vote, especially in the rural districts. Waverly, the county seat, gave a wet majority of 100, but every precinct save four in the entire county went dry. Polling places all over the county were closely watched by representatives of the dry forces to prevent fraud, and one man was arrested for illegal voting. There were no disturbances. Jubilant dries celebrated their victory by ringing the church bells. Dry women spent the day in prayer and urging voters to cast dry ballots.

HOT OLD TIME IS PROMISED TEDDY TALKS

Roosevelt Authorizes Reading of Declination Letter.

EXPRESSES HIMSELF PLAINLY

Colonel on Return to Oyster Bay Declares That Things Have Been Humming and Will Hum Some More Before Saturday's Peace Banquet Is Matter of History — Told Invitation Committee That He Was Not Hungry and Would Not Attend.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Dec. 28. — On his return home Colonel Roosevelt remarked that "things seem to have been humming this week and will hum some more. I guess everyone will know where I stand on some things before I get through."

"I have expressed my willingness to have the letter I wrote to the committee of the peace dinner made public Saturday night. I hope it will not be made public until after the dinner, for I expressed myself mightily plainly, and yet I would not wish to interfere with the dinner."

Invitation Was First-Class. "There has been some talk as to whether I received an official or unofficial invitation to the dinner. I received a first-class invitation, but on making some inquiries I found I could not accept the invitation, and my reasons will be made perfectly clear."

"Colonel Bloomer, secretary of the citizens' committee, called on me, and I just told him that I didn't feel hungry and will not go to the dinner."

"I was assured by Colonel Bloomer that the dinner is not for the purpose of endorsing any particular policies. We consulted on the subject of making public my letter and I urged that this be done in advance of the dinner."

"My attitude in regard to arbitration treaties is, I think, pretty well known, but I have written something that will appear before the dinner that will be stronger than anything I have said and will take up the attitude of Russia."

DYNAMITE SUSPECTS MAKE CONFESSION

Promises to Clear Up Pennsylvania Mysteries.

Monessen, Pa., Dec. 28.—Police of this city and vicinity expressed the belief that they have uprooted further dynamiting plots. This belief was made known following a partial confession of George Bridges, the alleged dynamiter, who was arrested while having in his possession a suitcase containing 77 sticks of dynamite.

"I'm going to clear myself of this mess," said the prisoner. "I will not take all the blame for this thing. The rest of them will have to take their medicine. What there is to tell I will tell when the time comes."

Burns detectives and the police of this entire section regard the statement by Bridges as equivalent to a confession that the plot existed to blow up the plants of the Pittsburgh Steel company and other concerns here employing upwards of 8,000 nonunion workmen.

The brief statement made by the prisoner caused a sensation. There had been a suspicion that perhaps after all Bridges had directed suspicion against himself and deliberately caused his own arrest, later to completely prove his innocence and thereby dissipate certain labor sentiment that was the outcome of the McNamara trial.

The authorities, however, submitted the prisoner to a rigorous third degree ordeal and Bridges told all about himself, and finally he wearily gave up the game he had played and promised that he will make a full confession. The arrest and part confession of Bridges was followed by the discovery of an attempt to blow up the plants of the McDonald & Hartman, lumber dealers at Rochester, Pa. News of this plot reached here, and authorities of both places are trying to connect the two gangs. Twenty-four sticks of dynamite, 12 cans wrapped in cotton and 10 yards of fuse were found alongside the contractors' plant.

Around the vicinity of Rochester many crimes were committed that later were traced to the McNamaras and Orrie McManigal. John Bridges, a brother of the prisoner, said that in his belief George had done no wrong, but that he had been a scapegoat for others. The brother, John, formerly was employed here as a bartender.

FLOODED WITH THE "QUEER"

Nicaraguan Money Supply Augmented by $10,000,000.

New Orleans, Dec. 28.—A gigantic scheme for swamping several Central American republics with counterfeit money has been unearthed, according to messages received here. To such an extent has the scheme been carried already, it is asserted, that $10,000,000 actually has been put into circulation in Nicaragua. A like sum destined to the same uses, it is alleged, has been seized.

MERCHANT ROBBED IN HIS OWN STORE

Pestoria Merchant Has Thrilling Experience With Thugs.

Pestoria, O., Dec. 27. — With his store filled by thieves, D. R. Ballmer, 45, a hardware merchant, was found by his brother, gagged and bound hand and foot, lying on the floor behind his desk and near the safe. His condition is considered serious, as he was roughly handled by the thieves.

The burglars took $100 in money from the safe and $500 worth of knives, razors and other merchandise from a showcase. The floor of the store was covered with papers and small change which the robbers had dropped in their flight. Their escape was made through the basement door. Local police believe the robbers are Pestorians.

SECRETS OF BIG COMBINE TOLD

Witness Relates History of National Packing Company.

DID NOT HAVE CLEAR SAILING

First Organization Was Nameless, Being Known Only as "P. O. Box 247"—Harriman Refused Loan of $500,000,000 Because Promoters Proposed to Carry Excessive Amount of Water—Standard Oil Interests Finally Came to Rescue.

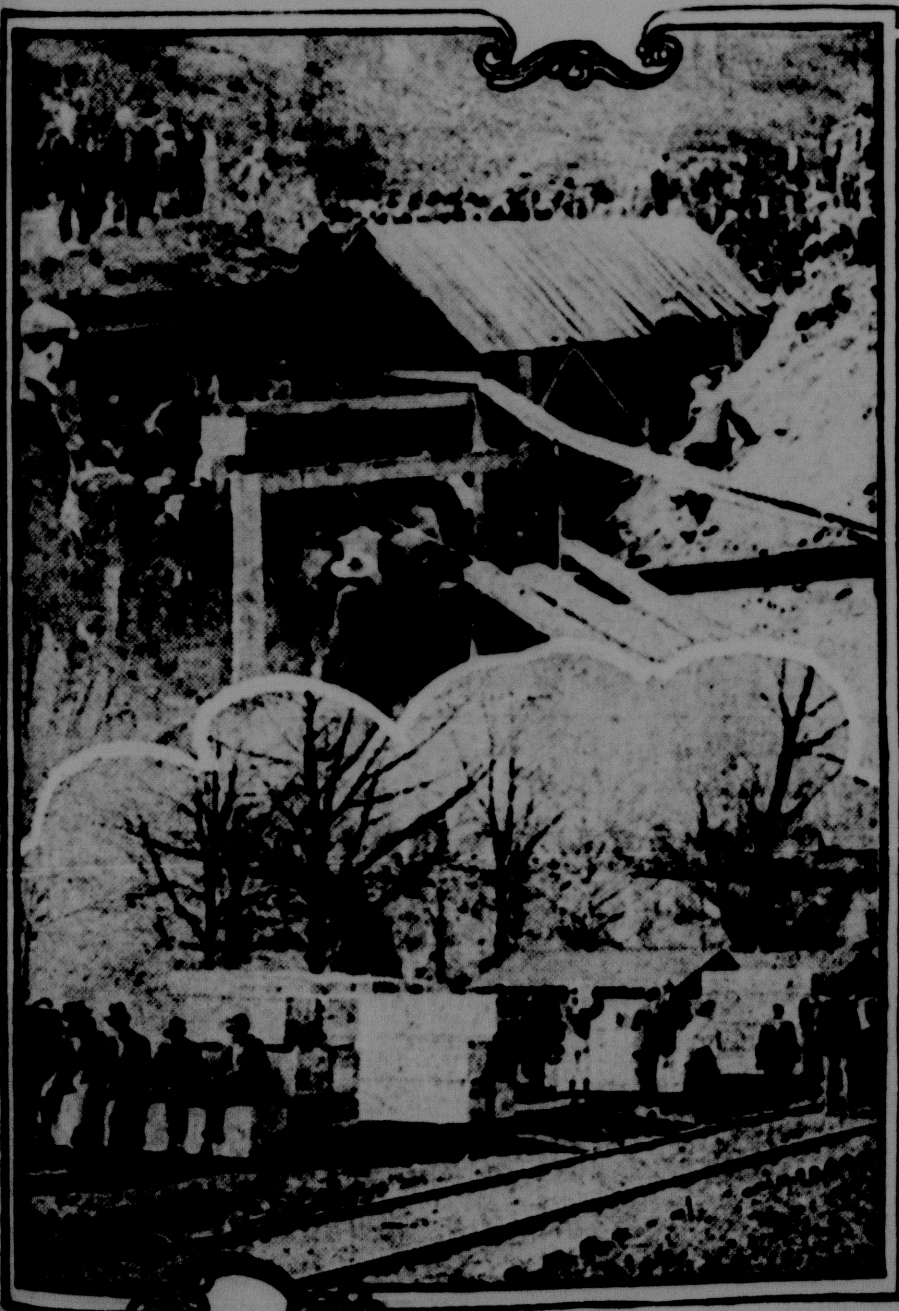

Chicago, Dec. 28. — The names of Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel corporation, and P. A. Valentine, formerly treasurer for Armour & Company, figured in the trial of the 10 Chicago packers charged with violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The names of the two financiers, who are in New York, came out when Pierce Butler, assistant to the attorney general, questioned Albert H. Veeder regarding contract No. 7, which provided for a loan of $15,000,000 in the formation of the National Packing company.

The reading of the agreement showed that Mr. Gary was to take over all the assets of packers in consideration for the loan. Mr. Valentine signed the agreement in behalf of J. Ogden Armour. The old pool of packers, it developed, was known only as "P. O. Box 247." Mr. Veeder testified that he knew of no name for the association, but it was said that "P. O. Box 247" was the name under which the pool worked.

Veeder's testimony and the records he produced show that for years prior to the final combination of interests the packers sought a consolidation, which they were unable to (Continued on Page Four.)

Scenes After the Coal Mine Explosion at Briceville, Tenn.

Photos by American Press Association.

ANOTHER fearful fatality has been added to the long list of mining disasters in the United States. The Crown mountain coal mine explosion at Briceville, Tenn., was followed by fire which raged for two days. Five men were found alive and rescued, and eighty-five met death in the disaster. Briceville is a town of 1,000 or 1,700 inhabitants, most of them miners, and the disaster is crushing to the people, accustomed as they are to the mine as the miner's life. Fifty-nine widows and 167 children are left to be cared for by friends or charity. The upper of the two views shows the scene of the crash, with the rescue party at work; the lower the coffin heaped on the wreckage.

DESPONDENT MAN KILLS HIS FAMILY HANGS HIMSELF

Benton, Ark., Dec. 28.—Because he was in deep despair and believed he and his family would be better off in heaven, James Grant clubbed his wife, five children and stepson to death and hanged himself. The bodies of the children were found in their beds, each skull being crushed. The body of Mrs. Grant was found in the home, half dressed, and evidently she was killed as she was about to go to bed.

"SHORT ORDER" NEWS.

Ex-President Roosevelt promises a hot old time on his return to his Oyster Bay home. He is going to write a letter and define his position in characteristic manner.

Pike county voted yesterday under the Rose law and the voters decided to keep it dry for the present at least.

Senator LaFollette opened his campaign in Ohio for the Republican presidential nomination. His first speech was a typical one.

Chicago packers got a jolt when lawyer who organized trust bares secrets on the stand.

CITY EMPLOYEES' PAYMASTER ROBBED OF ROLL

Detroit, Dec. 28.—One of the most daring daylight holdups perpetrated in Detroit in recent years occurred here when Tim Moynahan, city paymaster, was held up and robbed of $2,000 by two masked men while on his way to pay the employees of the city garbage plant. Moynahan was badly beaten by the two men, who made good their escape.

SHIRT WAIST MEN ACQUITTED

Jury Says They Were Not Responsible For Triangle Fire.

New York, Dec. 28.—Max Blach and Isaac Harris were acquitted of the charge of manslaughter which was brought against them after the fire in the Triangle Waist company factory, of which they were the proprietors, on March 25 last. One hundred and forty-six persons lost their lives in the fire. There are six other indictments against them, charged with manslaughter. District Attorney Whitman would not say whether or not they would be brought to trial on any of the other indictments.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 28.—Russia has decided to take everything into her own hands in the disturbed area of north Persia as completely as if it were her own territory. The following statement was issued semi-officially:

"After considering the situation that has arisen through the foot-hold aggression of anti-Russian mobs at Tabriz, Resht and Enzeli, and believing that these hostile acts, which were sometimes followed by brutal tortures and outrages upon those killed, deserve the severest punishment; and seeing that the Persian government, which is not concerned in these doings and acts, does not possess the necessary power to punish the guilty, the Russian government has decided that it is incumbent on it to take repressive measures in these towns in such manner as it may deem best."

"It has accordingly instructed its military commanders to adopt immediately, with the co-operation of the Russian consuls, the most stringent steps to chastise the guilty parties and remove once and for all the causes of hostile acts. These steps are especially to include the arrest of all Russian and Persian subjects who have committed crimes, and the trial by court-martial and punishment of the guilty and other persons who have committed crimes in these towns where resistance is likely to be met."

North Annual Event Will Be Held in Jefferson Hall on Wednesday and Thursday of Next Week

Next Wednesday and Thursday, January 3rd and 4th, are the days of the biggest Farmers' Institute in Fayette county—the Jeffersonville Institute, which will be held in Jefferson hall.

One feature of the Institute which has always added increased interest to the event, the annual corn show, will not be held in connection with the Institute this year, but all of the time will be devoted to the Institute itself. A very interesting program has been arranged.

Four state speakers will address the people upon topics of interest and great value to all. These are: G. C. Housekeeper, Bowling Green, S. W. Burlingame, Sharon; R. S. McKay, Columbus, and Mrs. George Livingston, Columbus. These speakers are highly recommended. Mr. McKay requests farmers to bring samples of diseased fruit trees, vines, etc.

Special music will be furnished by the Williamson Sisters' quartette, from Columbus, and on Thursday evening an entertainment will be given by these well known music makers.

The program arranged is as follows:

Used Fraud Scheme To Obtain Goods

Bill Stokes, colored, has been arrested and bound over to the grand jury under $200 bond for obtaining goods under false pretense, and from reports of those whom he has victimized, the charge looks serious for him.

Stokes was arrested upon an affidavit filed by Mr. Amos Thornton, charging him with obtaining 100 bushels of coal under pretense that he had the money to pay for it at once, and later that a certain man owed him money which he would secure and pay over for the coal. This proved to be false, and the man was arrested, taken before Mayor Allen, waived examination and was bound over, being confined in the county jail awaiting action of the grand jury.

It is claimed that nearly a dozen firms throughout the city have been "worked" by Stokes for goods of various value. Stokes is alleged to have said: "I would rather go before Judge Carpentah and get six months in h—l than to be tried before Rell Allen and get six months in paradise."

LIGHTNING KILLS FEW

In 1906 lightning killed only 169 people in this whole country. One's chances of death by lightning are less than two in a million. The chance of death from liver, kidney or stomach trouble is vastly greater, but not if Electric Bitters be used, as Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Ia., proved. Four doctors gave him up after eight months of suffering from virulent liver trouble and yellow jaundice. He was then completely cured by Electric Bitters. They're the best stomach, liver, nerve and kidney remedy and blood purifier on earth. Only 50c at Blackmer & Tanquary.

Asks Franchise Extension South Solon Mayor Refuses

Geo. W. Baker Applies for Renewal of Franchise, Meets With Opposition and May Choose Another Route.

Another indication that George W. Baker and his associates mean business in the movement to extend the road to this city, is manifested in the application for renewal of the franchise in South Solon, which expires on December 28, 1911.

Mr. Baker has met with some opposition upon the part of South Solon's mayor who refuses to sign the ordinance. The South Solon reporter make the following explanation of the affair:

"Geo. W. Baker, promoter of the Springfield and Washington traction line, in company with his attorney, Mr. Keifer, met with a majority of the council and Mayor Blessing last Monday morning, for the purpose of extending Mr. Baker's franchise another year. The franchise was not passed upon until the regular session Monday evening, when the entire council voted for the extension, but Mayor Blessing refused to sign the franchise, for the reason that it calls for double tracks, spurs, switches, etc., through the corporation. Mr. Blessing states that it will be an injury to the street and as he resides upon it he believes it would be doing himself an injury. Mr. Baker stated during his stay, that they were very anxious to build the road over this proposed line, but if too many obstacles were encountered would route out another right of way. Mr. Blessing asks that there be nothing but a single track within the limits of the town and declares he will not sign the franchise unless this matter be complied with. The mayor has ten days to sign the article and should he hold out his assertion the old council will lose their vote as their terms of office expire the first of the year. It will then be necessary to issue another franchise as the present one expires December 28th, 1911.

Dillahunt Guilty Goings On Trial

Dr. W. S. G. Dillahunt, of Springfield, who was jointly indicted with Millard Goings, formerly of lower Madison county and known in Fayette, has been found guilty of malpractice, the jury being out only 8 minutes.

Dillahunt is alleged to have performed a criminal operation, and Goings is held for having taken part in the affair. The young woman is still living.

Goings will be tried in the same court which tried Dillahunt, and it is believed that he will be found guilty as charged in the indictment. He was present during the trial of Dillahunt, sat in the audience and smiled and whispered among his friends.

SAVED HIS WIFE'S LIFE.

"My wife would have been in her grave today," writes O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., "if it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery. She was down in her bed, not able to get up without help. She had a severe bronchial trouble and a dreadful cough. I got her a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, and she soon began to mend, and was well in a short time." Infallible for coughs and colds, its the most reliable remedy on earth for desperate lung trouble, hemorrhages, lagrippe, asthma, hay fever, croup and whooping cough. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Blackmer & Tanquary.

Landed Office Doesn't Want It

There is one man in Fayette county who doesn't want to be an office holder, although elected to the office of Justice of the Peace in one of the townships. To him the office is in the same class with the mumps or chicken pox—he wants to get rid of it, but doesn't know how.

In a communication addressed to one of the county officials, this man says: "I would be pleased to be released from the duties of justice, as I was elected against my wishes, was not a candidate in any sense and do not feel like being compelled to accept something that I know I am not in a position to accept. If there is any way out of it, I would like to know it, and will feel obliged to you if you will advise me."

For some unknown reason he seriously objects to holding the office, and it is probable that he will be released.

Quite a Difference

Tuesday morning there were 52 persons in the Zanesville court for drunk and disorderly conduct and other offenses.

In this city the number of arrests during the past year was about 125, and for the month of December only three persons were arrested in the city, one being for drunkenness and he came from Springfield.

Not a single arrest was made for intoxication during Christmas time.

EVENT OF THE SEASON

IN SOCIETY

The climax of a gay holiday season reached Wednesday night in the twenty-fourth annual dance given by the Elks' lodge.

The New Year's dance is always an excellence the society event of the year, and not since last year has there been a brilliant assemblage graced by a splendid big ball room. Sixty tables, led by Mr. Louis Saxton and Miss Jean Glascock, formed in the grand march, a long line of kaleidoscopic colors, scintillating in lovely patterns beneath the gleaming lights. It was after ten o'clock before the ball opened, owing to the music being delayed by the D. T. & I. wreck near Springfield.

When the orchestra engaged, Huffman's orchestra of Springfield, arrived, however, it made ample compensation for lost time. It was the first occasion that this orchestra had played here and decidedly the best music in the hall for many a day. The swinging rag time and gay dance airs were immensely popular and the dancers expressed their approval in encore after encore, to which the musicians responded with unusual generosity.

A feature of the ball was the 11 o'clock dance, especially introduced as an Elk innovation, when the electric light effects combined with a beautiful slow waltz created a furor among the dancers.

Bells and bells gave Christmas decoration to the reception room and in the dining room scarlet poinsettias and white chrysanthemums, with greenery were artistically arranged.

The Elks' catered, serving an excellent two course supper.

The Elks' social committee, H. T. Baber, C. A. Gossard and Carl Mallow, supervised the various arrangements of the ball.

The splendid music spurred the dancers till the wee small hours before another New Year's dance, with its prestige and pleasure, was relegated to the past.

A number of out of town guests were in attendance.

Mrs. John Merriweather gave an elegant one o'clock dinner Thursday in honor of the eighteenth birthday of her daughter, Miss Frances. The pretty decorations were all of the Christmas-tide.

The dinner guests included Misses

Ruth and Dorothy Waters, Hazel Post, Ruth Smith, Elizabeth DeWees, Anna Conner, Margaret Johnson, Bertha Townsley. Mrs. Merriweather was assisted by Miss Fannie McLean and Miss Elsie Craig.

Mrs. Werter Shoop is giving delightful holiday entertainment to the Wednesday club this afternoon and entertains the Friday club tomorrow.

The Girls' Embroidery club, of Bloomingburg, celebrated the holidays with a delightful Christmas party Wednesday night. The twenty girls of the club invited twenty young men for a "Progressive supper," an elaborate two course affair, attended with bright yule-tide adornment.

The first course was served at the home of Miss Lucile Jefferson, where the guests enjoyed cordial hospitality. At ten o'clock the second course was served at the home of Miss Helen Hays and the evening enjoyably wound up in dancing and songs.

Among the guests from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McCoy, Murfreesboro, Tenn.; Miss Pavey, Sabina; Miss Helen Scott, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jefferson, Columbus; Will Jefferson, Cincinnati; Harry McCoy and Leland Haines, Miami University; Walter Larimer, O. S. U.; Lloyd Holdren, of Wapakoneta.

JONES—MARINE.

Mr. Charles W. Jones, a well-known farmer of Good Hope, and Miss Lucy E. Marine, also of Good Hope, were quietly married by Rev. R. C. Orndorff, at his residence in Millwood Wednesday evening at half-past six o'clock.

Both young people have many friends in Fayette county and are receiving warm congratulations.

Mr. Troy Junk, of Austin, attended the New Year's dance.

Miss Clara Barr, of Greenfield, is the guest of Miss Hilda Kyle.

Mr. Frank Sage, of Cincinnati, was a guest for the New Year's ball.

Mr. George Melvin, of Columbus, was a business visitor here Wednesday.

Mr. Irwin Dunlap, of the Dunlap Pony Co., Greenfield, was a business visitor here Thursday.

Miss Zelma Leath returned from spending Christmas at her home in Bainbridge Wednesday.

Miss Ruth Harps, of Greenfield, was Miss Nina Bonham's guest for the New Year's dance.

Miss Edith Deffner, of Greenfield, was among the out-of-town guests for the Elks' dance, Wednesday evening.

Misses Leah and L. Etta Rannels and Mr. Hugh Hildebrandt were in Wilmington yesterday attending the marriage of their niece and cousin, Miss Sara Rannels to Mr. Rendel Terrell, of New Vienna.

Mrs. A. M. Bush returned Wednesday night from a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Wilson, in Greenfield. Dr. Bush joined his wife for Christmas at the home of his mother, Mrs. J. C. Templeton.

BLOODY CUTTING AFFRAY

Mrs. H. E. Thompson and daughter, Miss Elizabeth, visited in Springfield the first of the week. Miss Thompson returned Wednesday night. Mrs. Thompson Thursday morning, bringing back with her Mrs. J. D. Thompson and daughter, Elizabeth, for a visit.

Miss Nell Dollinger is the guest of Miss Urcel Stitt, of Bloomingburg, for holiday week. Miss Stitt and Miss Dollinger were the guests of Miss Stitt's brother, Dr. H. L. Stitt for the New Year's ball.

Mrs. C. H. Murray starts home Friday after a three months' visit with her son, Shep Murray and wife, in Los Angeles, Cal. Enroute she will spend New Year's with her son, Fay, in San Francisco, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sanders left Wednesday for Long Beach, Cal., where they expect to spend a couple of months with relatives. Enroute they will stop in Omaha, Kansas, and Salt Lake City, Utah.

Miss Georgiana Hammer, of Detroit, Mich., is spending the Christmas vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hammer, while Miss Willmah Hammer is visiting her brother, Raymond, in Cleveland.

Miss Helen McKay, of Milledgeville, will be Miss Nina Bonham's guest the remainder of the week. Miss McKay is studying music at Dayton and home for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bell left Thursday for Chicago, where they will spend New Year's with friends and Mrs. Bell may remain for a longer visit.

Mr. Lee Keller and family, of Sandusky, are spending the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. George Bybee and Mr. Perry Keller and family.

Miss Dorothy Smith is entertaining Misses Edna and Helen Head, of Greenfield, for the dance and holiday week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Frazer were over from Xenia to attend the New Year's dance and visit Mrs. Frazer's mother, Mrs. J. P. Harsha.

Robert Ogle is spending the holidays the guest of Miss Mabel Brown, in Owensboro, Ky.

Marion Whelpley is visiting her uncle, Mr. Ed Whelpley and wife, in Columbus.

James Sutherland and Seney Blue were guests from Frankfort for the New Year's dance.

Robert Waters was down from Mt. Sterling to attend the dance Wednesday evening.

THE BATTLE IS ON.

Although the people of Ohio held an election, very recently, another campaign is on, and like the circuses, it is promised to be bigger than any which has gone before.

The primaries of both leading political parties must be held in May. At these primaries in addition to the full complement of state and county officials, there must be selected candidates for representative in congress and delegates to the National convention of the two leading parties.

While the contest for the gubernatorial nominations will be no child's play and in many of the congressional districts throughout the state the fight for the nomination for representative in congress will be no small potatoes, yet the big fight promises now to be for the delegates to the National convention—both Republican and Democratic—and it is this battle which has already passed beyond the skirmish line and developed into a real artillery duel.

Only a few short months ago it looked like a sure thing that Ohio would furnish both the Republican and Democratic standard bearers in the 1912 battle of ballots, but so swiftly have the scenes and the battle lines shifted that it would not be surprising if neither came to Ohio for its candidate.

Decided opposition has developed against both President Taft and Governor Harmon in the ranks of their own parties.

The opposition to a renomination of the President has its source in Wisconsin, with Senator La Follette as the official announcer, and rumor is persistent that one of the large tributaries starts from Oyster Bay.

This opposition has spread into Ohio and the invading forces of the opposition to the President have found powerful allies in the Buckeye state.

With Senator La Follette and Senator Clapp already on the stump "the administration" has the unpleasant distinction of fighting at the outset of the campaign for its very foothold.

Governor Harmon has always encountered, since the Cleveland administration, decided opposition in the rank and file of Ohio Democrats, and that opposition has grown in size and strength during his incumbency as governor.

Whether that opposition will suffer the Ohio delegation to the Democratic National convention to go to the governor without a fight is still a matter of some doubt. The record of Judson Harmon's administration as governor has, in the main, been satisfactory to his partisans, but not to the party leaders.

Unlike the opponents to the nomination of President Taft the opponents of Governor Harmon have, as yet, not determined on the man upon whom they will concentrate, and until that is done there is not much hope of keeping the governor out of the Ohio endorsement.

It is unusual to have the campaign open so early, but the "antis" in both parties seem eager for the fray and have already begun the fight.

The people of Ohio, because this state promised to be the preliminary battlefield for both parties, may as well settle down to their fate.

From now on they will hear more "progressive" talk and more definitions of that much used and much abused word than can be found in all the dictionaries published.

There will be all sorts of "progressives" on exhibition from now on and every one will admit that he is a progressive and the only true type.

For those who love oratory, both old style and new style, and of either political brand, there will be an abundance on tap from this time on.

To see both the "favorite sons" of Ohio changed from sure winners to certain losers during the campaign which may now be said to be on in full blast, is, while it may be unpleasant to many, not an improbable turn of the now rapidly spinning fortune wheel of politics.

While the battle against President Taft is being waged in the open, yet the one now on against Governor Harmon is not less deep seated and determined. The latter may not assume the same battle front, but that it is on in deadly earnest no one who keeps posted on current political events, will question.

Decided and open opposition has developed in the partisan press against the Governor's presidential aspiration.

An account of the manner in which the Manchus were massacred at Hankow, China, greatly impressed me. To make sure of the identity of their victims the Chinese rebels hit upon the difference in the Chinese and Manchu pronunciation and compelled the victim to count, and when he pronounced the numeral 6 in the Manchu manner death descended upon him. Thus was the word "Liushiliu," the Chinese for "six," made to serve as judge and executioner.

This event recalls to my mind part of chapter 19 of the books of Judges in the Old Testament. It reads as follows: "Then said they unto him, say now shibboleth and he said shibboleth, for he could not frame to pronounce it right. Then they took him and slew him at the passage of Jordan; and there fell of that time forty and two thousand."

It seems peculiar that this ghastly act of hundreds of years ago should be repeated in the twentieth century.

Poetry—Today

A DOCTOR MAN.

It's very often that my pa
Stays out all the night long;
They say it ought to worry ma,
'Cause it's just awful wrong.
But he don't care what all them folks
Says 'bout it, an' he can
Just sit an' laugh at all their jokes,
'Cause he's a doctor man.

He talks to other wimmen all
Th' time an' ma don't care;
An' every day he makes a call
To see some lady fair.
Th' neighbors says he takes 'em rides
Nen he laughs at it an'
Just keeps it up an' splits his sides,
'Cause he's a doctor man.

He holds their hands an' smiles so
Nice,
An' asks 'em how they feel,
Nen wimmen sneak 'round, sly as
mice.

An' give ma a long spiel
'Bout how bad pa is, an' nen she
Just laughs an' giggles an'
Tells him when he comes home, you
see.

'Cause he's a doctor man.

perfect because of the enormous loads of watered stock they intended to carry. In 1902 they were forced to abandon their plans after each had pledged $1,000,000 in securities for the combine because E. H. Harriman and other capitalists refused to contribute $90,000,000 to a scheme capitalized at $750,000,000 and which carried less than $200,000,000 of actual values.

Veeder Produces Records.

Under examination by Attorney Pierce Butler for the government, Veeder produced the records leading up to the formation of the National Packing company. A series of contracts and options showed that during June, 1902, the United Beef company, the Fowler Packing company, the Hammond properties and the St. Louis Dressed Beef and Provisions company were acquired by the defendants. Thus the packers secured property capitalized at $300,000,000, 17,000,000 acres of ranch lands and a number of banks. Later, the Sulzberger company was acquired, and all these concerns were operated through the National Packing company.

Veeder then showed that after Harriman had refused to advance $90,000,000 for a beef combine in June, 1902, the packers took the question up with Kuhn, Loeb & Company, Jacob H. Schiff and the Stillman Standard oil interest, and in December, 1902, these interests advanced the funds. Six months later the National Packing company was launched.

Attorney Butler brought out that Kuhn, Loeb & Company and the Stillman interests advanced $15,000,000. The packers contributed $8,000,000 to the combination. The $15,000,000 was repaid within three years. According to District Attorney Wilkerson the government will show that the loan was repaid out of hidden profits. It is declared that while statements showed that one of these National Packing subsidiaries lost $1,500,000 during its first year, it really made a profit of $5,000,000 in the three years before the loan was repaid.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Kills Man and Escapes.

Columbus, O., Dec. 28.—Sam Case, 29, a blacksmith helper, unmarried, died at a local hospital from a bullet wound in his head. Clarence King, 30, a one-eyed plasterer, who makes his home with his mother at Hilliards, is being sought by the police as the murderer. The shooting occurred in a saloon.

Blacksmith Ends Life.

Springfield, O., Dec. 28.—Richard N. Stickney, 59, a blacksmith of Sugar Grove, was found dead, seated in a chair in the cellar of his blacksmith shop, with a bullet hole in his head. Suicide is suspected, although no motive is known. He is survived by his wife.

Thugs Hold Up Saloon Crowd.

Columbus, O., Dec. 28.—Held up in true wild west style by three masked men, armed with revolvers, C. G. Hite and six men who were in his saloon, near the Norfolk & Western tracks, were robbed of more than $100.

Canton Man Is Wanted.

Canton, O., Dec. 28.—The Stark county officials have asked the police of St. Paul, Minn., to arrest William B. Shaver, president of the Golden Rule Cigar company of Canton, on a charge of forgery.

GET A FINE DICTIONARY FROM THE DAILY HERALD

Begin Clipping the Coupons to Take Advantage of Aid of Education—Mistakes are Serious.

The heads of 75 per cent. of the large business interests of Washington know that the chief educational need of their employees is a better knowledge of English, including spelling, grammar and punctuation and the use of words in general.

Stenographers crowd to answer an advertisement announcing a position paying $6 a week, because they are not qualified to demand higher wages. Thousands of stenographers and typewriters trained in the art of making "pot hooks" and tapping the typed keys are eking out an existence on meager wages.

These statements have a direct bearing upon the proposition that The Washington Daily Herald is offering in the shape of a genuine Webster's New Revised Standard Dictionary.

The dictionary is acknowledged by educators to be the best and quickest way in acquiring such a knowledge of the English language as everyone ought to possess.

Get out of the $6 class. Or, if you are not so poorly paid as that, at least get busy and take advantage of the opportunity which is already bringing dozens to the office of The Washington Daily Herald to inspect the books. Everybody expresses delight with the appearance and character of the dictionary offered and seems eager to start clipping the necessary coupons from consecutive issues of The Washington Daily Herald.

Get a dictionary. Get a Webster's New Revised Standard Dictionary, the best on the market. Start clipping The Washington Daily Herald's coupons at once. Don't delay.

One misspelled or misused word may lose you the confidence of your employer, or bring on the ridicule of your associates or competitors.

Six coupons clipped from consecutive issues of The Washington Daily Herald and the small expense bonus specified in the display advertisement on another page of this issue will get you the book, and permit you to turn the tables upon what you have regarded as misfortune, when it was only your own ignorance weighing upon you and the limitations of your vocabulary holding you down.

Mistakes may be fatal to friendship and business relations. Start clipping coupons today.

"What do you consider the most useless thing in the world?"
"Being the father of the bridegroom at a wedding."

Rice Pudding Made Without Eggs

Take 1 teaspoon of rice, wash, pour boiling water over and let stand five minutes. Throw off, add a cup of sugar, little nutmeg or teaspoon of vanilla extract and 2 quarts of milk. Bake slowly 2 hours, stirring occasionally until last half hour, then brown. It is creamy and lovely.

Pad Embroidery With Cotton Cord.

In embroidering use cotton cable cord for padding the buttonhole stitches. It is much easier than the old way of using filling in stitches.

Use For Old Shirtwaists

Shirtwaists that are out of style and material too good to throw away can be made into little boys' blouses, aged 5, 6 and 7 years. Cut the seams open, take out the gathers at waist line. You can make the style opening down the front or side, using the same hems for buttons and buttonholes, just cutting the sleeve over. You will be surprised what nice blouses you can make with little work.

Fig and Date Pudding

Steam one pound figs and one pound dates broken into small pieces two hours. Put on bread board, mix with just enough powdered sugar to hold together, and work in gradually one pound English walnuts broken into pieces. Mold in a long roll. Slice and serve cold with whipped cream or hard sauce.

Guimpe Finish.

A piece of bobbin stitched over the raw edge turned up once makes a neat and a strong finish for the bottom of guimpes. Bobbin in various widths may be used in many ways both on new sewing and for mending clothing.

To Disinfect a Carpet.

If any article of the household furniture requires disinfecting occasionally it is a carpet, especially if it has been used a considerable time. The following is a method recommended both as a disinfectant and a preventive of moths. Add three tablespoonfuls of turpentine to three quarts of water, saturate a large sponge with this mixture, squeeze it almost two-thirds dry and go over the carpet carefully. As soon as the sponge becomes dirty, cleanse it and immerse in the turpentine and water again. You will be surprised to see how bright and new it will make the carpet.

CRAB BISQUE—Select four large heavy hard shell crabs; drop them into boiling water and boil for half an hour, drain and cool. Open them, remove the meat and chop it very fine. Pound the shells, boil them for half an hour in three pints of good white stock and strain through a cloth. Return the stock to the fire, add the crab meat and one scant cupful of well washed rice. Cook slowly for three quarters of an hour and rub through a sieve. Reheat, season to taste, add one cupful of cream. Simmer for five minutes longer and serve.

CORN PUDDING—Corn Pudding will require sufficient scraped or grated corn to measure one quart, one cupful or more of milk (according to the age and milkiness of the corn), and a high seasoning of salt and pepper. To this add three well beaten eggs, three tablespoonfuls of sifted flour, three tablespoonfuls of butter, melted, and one teaspoonful of sugar. Pour the batter into a pudding dish and bake for one hour and a half in a slow oven.

NUT LOAF—Two cupfuls of stale bread crumbs, one cupful and a half of chopped or ground nuts, one scant teaspoonful of salt. Mix thoroughly and add sufficient hot water to moisten; cover and let stand for ten minutes, add one cupful more of hot water and turn into a buttered tin. Bake one hour in a moderate oven and serve cold.

SUCROTASH—Old time succotash is made with shelled lima beans and corn cut from the cob. Put the beans on in as little water as possible, adding salt and pepper to season; when half done—in about twenty minutes—add a double amount of raw corn cut from the cob, and continue simmering until done. This may be slightly thickened with flour and butter and milk added.

Many of the new parasols are in bordered effects—pompae silks with bands of Persian or Dresden patterns or perhaps a border of plain colored fabric.

A number of pretty shirts have the shirt at the side or side front which gives opportunity for display of fetching features.

ON THE ROAD TO RECOVERY.

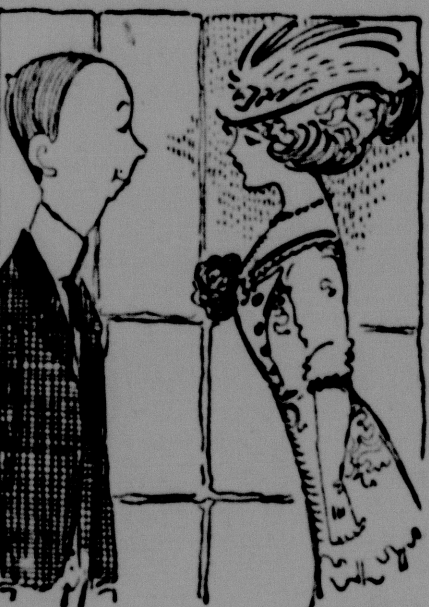

There were certain traits which distinguished Miss Amanda Lowry from most of her neighbors, and although not all of them were admirable traits, they were Miss Amanda's, and therefore accepted lovingly by her friends. When she was taken suddenly ill with pneumonia, the village was in great distress.

"I went to see her just a minute," said a tearful friend, "and she scarcely looked at me. I don't think she really sensed I was there. But yet they say she's a mite better. If she can only get some strength into her. The fever's gone but she lacks interest, she's so weak."

A few days later, still tearful, but joyous, the same friend made a more encouraging report.

"She looked at me, Amanda did, where I sat, way across the room, and then she beckoned to me. 'You go take a look at yourself in the glass,' she said, 'and tell me if you've got your brooch on straight. It looks canted to the left, to me.'"

"And 'twas," said the neighbor, wiping her eyes. "She could hardly speak above a whisper, but when I'd straightened it, she said, 'That's all right,' and turned over and went to sleep. She's going to get well!"—Youth's Companion.

THE REPORTER'S POINT OF VIEW.

"Seen the fall styles yet?"
"Not in detail, but I understand the press humorist won't have any cause for complaint."

Teaching Chivalry.

My little boy has been very chivalrous in his attitude toward me. This trait I make use of now, when he comes from school saying, as most small boys do at one time or another, "I don't like the teacher." I talk about the large number of little boys the teacher has under her charge, how tired she must get, how much she needs strong, manly little boys to help her, and my son decides at once that he'd like to be a brave, strong knight to protect the teacher. He always goes back in a helpful frame of mind.

With a wail, he fled into the night.

"Waiter these eggs are as hard as a stone. I told you not to boil them more than three minutes and a half."
"Yes, sir, that's just the time they were in, to a second, but the—aw—water was hard, sir."

A Peculiar Dog.

Brown—"My latest canine is a hard-ware dog."
Smith—"Explain yourself, Beatrice."
Smith—"Well, every time I kick him he makes a bolt for the door."

"Gracious, what is all that crepe for?"
"I had a chance to get it at a bargain, and you know, my husband goes in for flying!"—London Opinion.

Juvenile Misapprehension.

"Papa," whispered Johnny, who was in attendance at the Sunday morning services, "why do the people look so sad when they drop their money in that plate?"

plan for federal regulation of prices as a relief from monopoly. Mr. LaFollette said he had no patience with this method. In his analysis he went further and said that ultimately the government would have to fix prices of labor, hours of employment and compensation of original producers in order to fix accurately the prices to be offered the consumers.

Instead of the Gary plan or the Taft plan of a federal license for incorporations, Senator LaFollette proposed his own plan for a commission on restraints of trade to relieve the country of the condition in which he finds it. The senator saw great evil in the growth of the trusts.

Although Senator LaFollette made no direct reference to the president nor suggested his own candidacy, he included in his speech a denunciation of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, immediately following his praise of labor organization, and his opinion that the Sherman anti-trust law did not contemplate their regulation.

Law Works One Way.

"It is a curious fact about the enforcement of the law," he said, "that while the courts have carefully protected investors in trusts against loss in values, the only instance where the extreme penalty of three-fold damages has been imposed is in the case of a labor organization. The court has gone to the extent of seizing upon the savings of members of a labor organization and has ordered that these little investments should be paid over as far as they go toward giving the employers three times the damages that the union had caused them. Certainly it is very strange that when the court goes to its furthest limit in imposing penalties on combinations of capital the capitalist owners get away with the full value of their property, even though the court explicitly says the biggest ones committed crimes in getting it, but when the court goes to the same limit in enforcing penalties on combinations of labor, it takes away the homes and small savings of the guilty members. A law which treats investors as innocent if they form a trust and guilty if they form a labor union does not command the respect nor appeal to the sense of justice of the American people."

"The passage of the Payne-Aldrich bill was the most outrageous assault of private interests upon the people recorded in tariff history," he said.

He criticized the proposed National Reserve association of the Aldrich monetary plan. "The greatest menace to competition at the present time is control of credits and the concentration of money in the hands of those who control the trusts," he continued.

The initiative, referendum and recall were strongly acclaimed as cardinal principles of the progressives by Senator LaFollette, while an appeal was also made for Democrats to join the progressive movement as the only true Democracy.

In his speech at Youngstown Senator LaFollette spoke of "Self Government and the Trusts."

Well Received at Norwalk.

Morris Beats Kennedy.

New York, Dec. 28.—Carl Morris, the Oklahoma giant, handed a terrific beating to Tom Kennedy of New York at the Empire Athletic club, but at no time did the westerner show any form that would entitle him to be seriously considered as a white hope.

Religion Comes Hard

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 28.—If proper assurance can be given Governor John M. Slaton that Benjamin Merck of Gainesville, Ga., condemned to hang for murder Dec. 29, can "get religion" in the next 30 days, that length of time in the form of a respite will be granted him.

Merck has been the most disappointing of near converts. He was convicted of wife murder six months ago, and ever since has been just upon the verge of accepting faith, failing to make the goal at the last minute. Then Merck's spiritual advisers have had to begin all over again. This is the situation at present, and Merck is fearfully anxious to get religion before he goes to the gallows.

ONSALE SATURDAY MORNING

DEATH OF MRS. WILLIAM CAMPBELL

With shocking suddenness comes the sad news from Los Angeles, Cal., of the death of Mrs. Ethel Dahl Campbell, wife of Mr. William Campbell, in the 39th year of her age, Tuesday night at the Good Samaritan Hospital.

Mrs. Campbell and her eleven-year-old daughter, Virginia, left here in October, hoping that a winter in the softer climate of Los Angeles would benefit Virginia's health. A week after their arrival Mrs. Campbell was taken violently ill.

The trouble was thought at first to be acute indigestion, but developed into intestinal trouble. She suffered intensely, but after weeks of skillful treatment at the hands of expert specialists and skillful nursing in the hospital, was thought to be out of danger. She had so improved that she was able to leave the hospital and join her sister, Mrs. T. W. Marchant at the hotel, and was able to be taken out in a wheeled chair until a few days ago, when the relapse came, which led to the end.

Mrs. Marchant went to her sister six weeks ago when she was first taken ill, and was constantly with her and her little daughter.

The circumstances are particularly sad, a young woman, having so much in life for which to live and dying so far from home and family.

Mrs. Campbell was the youngest child of the late George Dahl and leaves besides her husband and one child, her widowed mother, one brother, Mr. H. B. Dahl, and one sister, Mrs. T. W. Marchant.

Mrs. Marchant left Thursday morning at 9 o'clock over the Santa Fe road bringing the remains to Mrs. Campbell's home here. She is accompanied by the little daughter, Virginia, and her aunt, Mrs. M. V. Logan, who has been spending several months with her grandson, Mr. Shep Murray.

They are expected to arrive here Monday morning. Mr. Campbell and Mr. C. H. Murray will meet them in Chicago and accompany them home.

Funeral arrangements will be announced upon their arrival.

New Standard On Head Clerked in Leesburg Store

John B. Archbold Says Foundation of Successful Career Was Laid in Grocery and That Women Beat Him in Deals.

It is not generally known that John B. Archbold, looked upon as the present head of the Standard Oil Co. and a multi-millionaire of the most successful stamp, was born and spent the early portion of his life in and near Leesburg, just over the line in Highland county, and that he attributes his success in life to the shrewdness required by the grocery clerk of his day, when prices were on a sliding scale and grocersmen received what they could for an article.

The following interesting article in which the noted financier speaks of his life in Leesburg, is taken from the "New York Day by Day" column of Thursday's Time-Star:

Every now and then John D. Archbold—whose brain is considered in Standard Oil only second to that of John D's—slices off a thick wedge of his fortune and confers it upon some deserving institution. But it is to be observed that Mr. Archbold always does the slicing. No one ever hurries up and takes money away from him. And when he is engaged in a business undertaking he can figure costs and credits down to the ultimate decimal. "I learned to do that in Leesburg, Ohio, where I was born," said he to a friend. "I began my business life by clerking in a grocery store in Ohio. The wives of farmers would come in with eggs and butter and trade them for calico and sugar and other commodities. In those days there was no such thing as a one price rule. We got what we could—and, as markets had not been systematized as they are now, and transportation facilities were poor, we paid what we had to, and roughly tried to figure out a profit. One could not take a slate and half an hour and do that figuring in the rear of the store, either. It had to be done right off the reel, and convincingly. I've learned a lot of other things in business since then, but the best training I ever had was in that little Ohio grocery store. It taught me the value of absolute knowledge of the details of my business."

Someone suggested that Mr. Archbold probably laid the foundation of his fortune there.

"Let me tell you," said he, impressively. "There is a lot of good financial talent going to waste on Ohio farms. Most of those farmers' wives skinned me."

Service Commission Turns Down C. H. & D.

Much local interest attaches to the hearing given the C. H. & D. railroad Wednesday, before the Service Commission, when the commission refused to see things the way the officials of the road wanted them to in regard to the issuance of $425,000.

The commission held that the company's total indebtedness should be considered as a debt against that part of the system owned entirely by the C. H. & D. This is 372 miles or a little more than one-third of the entire system of over 1000 miles.

The commission thought the debt should be held against the entire system instead of only part of it.

Sale of D. T. & I. Again Postponed

The foreclosure sale of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironport Railroad, set for January 9th, has again been postponed, April 9th being the new date of sale. This was agreed to by U. S. District Judge Angell.

This is the third time the date of sale has been fixed, the first date being October 5th. The postponement made Wednesday was in accordance with a petition filed by the New York Trust company, holding second mortgage bonds.

It is thought that the bondholders' interests are not inclined to take over the road, and that no prospective purchasers have showed up on the horizon.

More Wrecks On the D. T. & I.

The D. T. & I. has been crippled this week by another bad freight wreck just out of Springfield, where a number of cars left the track, causing so much confusion that a new track was constructed around the wreck in order to allow the congested freight to move.

Wednesday a freight engine, in rounding the wreck on the new track, toppled over, completely tying up all traffic, both freight and passenger. A wrecker was called to the scene but did not get the road open to traffic until late Thursday.

Transfers of passengers and baggage was made around the wreck, and all passenger trains ran on whatever schedule they could, meeting at the wreck and making the transfer.

YMAS MEETING W. C. T. U.

The Christmas meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held Wednesday afternoon with the president, Mrs. W. W. Davila.

The weather prevented a large attendance, but much interest was manifested in different features of the work before the society, such as the Constitutional amendment to the convention and the county convention to be held in our city, the 5th, 6th and 7th of March.

Action was taken on plans for that meeting and there was discussion of past work done by the W. C. T. U. and the women who were connected with that work, as well as the possibilities for it in the future.

Mrs. Taggart, of Jeffersonville, county president, was the presiding officer.

Negro Uses Gun Victim Will Die

Quarrelling over a woman caused what will probably terminate in murder in Ross county Wednesday morning, when Henry Carter shot and fatally wounded Raymond Jones.
Both men are colored.

Both men had been occupying a cabin near where the shooting occurred, and husking corn in the neighborhood. Carter shot his victim in the back and then fled. He was later found hiding in a corn shock, and delivered to the authorities, who confined him in the Ross county jail to await developments.

Jones will be paralyzed for life if he does not die.

In the Light of Reason.

A farmer returning home late at night found a man standing beside the house with a lighted lantern in his hand. "What are you doing here?" he asked savagely, suspecting
he had caught a criminal.

For answer came a chuckle and
"It's only me, zur."

The farmer recognized John, his shepherd. "It's you, John, is it?
What on earth are you doing here
this time of night?"

Another chuckle. "I'm courtin'
Ann, zur."

"And so you've come courtin' with a lantern, you fool! Why, I never took a lantern when I courted your mistress?"

"No, zur, you didn't, zur," John chuckled. "We can all see you didn't,
zur."

A Real Fighter.

I've fought my way through life,
he said.

"I've had no peace or rest;
I've battled, struggled, clashed and clawed,
I've missed no trial or test."
Admiringly we gazed at him,
And at his old, gray head.

"A veteran?" we asked. "Well, yes,
I've had four wives," he said.

The Morning Quarrel.

"You forgot something," called his wife from the window.

He came back.

"What did I forget?"

"You forgot to slam the door!"
He slammed it—Washington Herald.

Rude Man.

"The way that man looked at me was most insulting."
"Did he stare?"

"No; he looked once and then turned away as if I were not worth noticeing!"—London Opinion.

A Start.

"I would that I were a bird," he said.

The landlady nodded her head.
"Perhaps I can help you attain that form
By presenting your bill," she said.

GREAT DEMAND.

"Yes, his torture is assured."
"Has he discovered a gold mine?"
"About the same thing; he has invented an automobile number that becomes invisible as soon as the machine collides with anything."

A Possibility.

"Why did the boy stay on the burning deck, pa?"

"I don't know, unless he was wearing his mother's hobbie skirt and couldn't move."

Easy.

Physician—"I shall have to forbid
you smoking, drinking, playing poker
and keeping late hours."
Patient—"Ah! I see my wife has been consulting you."

"I think Bumpsey is about the most fluent and most colossal deceiver I ever met. He's just been telling me that he's a regular caller on all families in the most aristocratic part of the city."

"It's true. Bumpsey's a letter carrier, you know."

Lodger—I can't stay here any longer,
Mrs. Binks.

Landlady—Why not, sir? What is your complaint?

Lodger—Lung complaint; your baby howls too much.

Jenkins—Yes, he asked me to go fishing with him, and when we'd got ten miles away he discovered he had forgotten the bait.

Watkins—But could you not dig some worms?

Jenkins—Worms? What in the world should we do with worms? A man can't drink worms.

Mistress—"Have you a reference?"

Bridget—"Poine; of held the poker over her till I got it."

DULL MID-WINTER DAYS IN SPORTS

Rudy Unholtz, Former Bear Champion Wants Match With Cleveler Little Chicago Fighter.

One fighter is glad that Packey McFarlane has returned from the Pacific coast because he would like very much to get on a match with him. That fighter is Rudy Unholtz, former Bear champion, but now a prosperous truck and chicken farmer in the vicinity of Denver, Colo. Unholtz is willing to take on any of them and if some of the matchmakers are willing to stage him with Packey he would be glad to consider the match as good as made right now. Failing in that Rudy will consider matches with any of the other light weights.

American Cyclists to Go Abroad.

Jackie Clarke, Iver Lawson and Worth Mitten have been secured to go to Australia to take part in a six day bicycle race in Sydney next January. It will be held on an outdoor cricket grounds on a three-lap-to-the-mile track. The winning team will receive $5,000. Clarke will have as his partner Gordon Walker. Others who will go from this country for the race are Alfred Goulet and P. Hichir. The tourists may also take part in the Australian wheel race, worth $500 to the winner, and sprinting events which will be run off.

CAMP'S ALL-AMERICAN SELECTIONS

Walter Camp, the so-called dean of American football, in picking his All-American football team for 1911, has outlined his first team selections to players who have been members of eastern teams. Not one western player is mentioned of the first eleven.

Princeton and Yale are given three places each on the mythical all-star eleven. Harvard, Army, and the Army, Navy and Carleton are each.

One selection of Camp's which is likely to be a surprise to many is the inclusion of a player from the University of Minnesota. It is a surprise because there is no question but that he is one of the best players in the country.

GOSSIP AMONG SPORTS

Football fatalities are fewer this season.

Clarke Griffith is a real comedian. He states without smiling that Washington has a good team.

Hans Wagner is a "slogger," but it would be safe to meet him in the middle of the road on a dark night.

Harvard and Yale are already clamoring for revision of the football rules. Princeton seems to be satisfied.

Baseball was played by the Hittites 4,000 years ago, and today Frank Baker is the best Hittite in our midst.

China may become a republic, but she can never become an American republic without a Honus Wagner or Ty Cobb.

Football netted Yale about $80,000 this year. We should like to know about how much it costs to run a football team.

Every team in the National league, except St. Louis, has a man ahead of the first Cub player in the list of batting averages.

China has organized an eight club baseball league, but it will be a long time before it is able to get a major league franchise.

"Women are subject to hysteria," says a Russian doctor. Evidently he has never seen a crowd of male beings at a football game.

Since so many "appointed managers" of the Cincinnati club have proven "jokes," when the real leader is chosen he may be overlooked.

Frank Schulte won't worry over the loss of a single home run. He could run it down in quick order with that smoke wagon if he wished to do so.

Officials of the minor leagues have voted to reduce the salaries of baseball players. Is there no patriotism left in the officials of the minor leagues?

What, indeed, is in a name? The dispatch to the sporting department states that "One Round" Hogan knocked out "Knockout" Brown in the seventh round!

Picking all-star football teams is delectable pastime, but in the absence of a real gridiron battle this is about the only thing left for the dyed-in-the-wool enthusiast.

A New York paper has discovered that the game of baseball is 4,000 years old; "having descended from the Hittites to the Giants." A

BOXERS LACK ONE ESSENTIAL

Some Are City of Intelligence, While Others Are Deficient in Game-ness in Ring.

"To my way of thinking a fighter who is deficient in the brain department is just as badly handicapped as the fellow who lacks heart," said Bug Slattery at a little session of athletic celebrities in Jimmy Dunn's gymnasium yesterday afternoon.

"Who are you driving at now, Mr. Slattery?" asked Tommy McGinty, the clever lightweight boxer, who is Dunn's principal instructor at the gym.

"I have no particular pugilist in mind," replied the sport philosopher. "I am speaking in a general way. You know we have in the fighting game boys who are naturally timid and who could never learn to be game. Such fellows sometimes get to be topnotchers because they have everything else. They may have speed, skill and the punch and lack game-ness and still get along all right. Such fellows, as a rule, are seldom called upon to stand a severe test as to game-ness, for they are so clever, and so fast that other fighters can't hurt them."

"But usually such boxers are much better in a gymnasium than in a real ring contest. Steve O'Donnell, the Australian heavyweight, and Bob Armstrong, were good illustrations of this type. They were two of the fastest and most skillful big fellows in the history of pugilism, but outside of a gymnasium they were absolutely no good. I have seen Bob Armstrong make Fitzsimmons look like a fool in gymnasium workouts, while in the real battle Fitz would lick him in a round."

"O'Donnell was the same way. He used to make them all look cheap at the training camps, but in the ring he could hardly ever get started. Peter Maher knocked him out twice in less than two or three minutes, for no other reason than that Steve's heart failed him before entering the ring. He was good enough to beat fellows like Maher with the greatest of ease. If O'Donnell had been a game man Peter Maher could never have placed a glove on him. I have known many of the same sort."

"Your dope is dead right on that score, Bug," said big Al Williams, Dunn's white hope, "for I have met men who boxed both O'Donnell and Armstrong."

HOWARD WILL FIGHT CHANGE

Former Manager of the Louisville American Association Team Refuses to Be Exchanged.

Former Manager Del Howard of the Louisville team, is going to make a hard fight against any effort that Manager Jack Tighe of the Colonels may make toward disposal of his services. Tighe was in Louisville and announced that Howard would be sold. A close friend of the former leader says Howard had a restrictive contract, with a provision that in case he be disposed of as manager he should be given his release as a player. However, President Grayson has not carried out any such agreement if there be one. Howard, Grayson states, cost him $25,000 as a player when purchased from the Cubs.

WAITING FOR IT

Having a promising engagement with a good client, an oil merchant was obliged to leave his office in sole charge of a scrubwoman.

"Now, my good woman," he said, indicating the telephone, "when you hear the bell ring attached to that little box, just go to the tube and about, 'Hello! Who are you?' and wait for a reply."

The merchant had been gone about half an hour when the telephone bell rang furiously. The woman rushed to the tube, shouted out the necessary query, and put the receiver to her ear. "I'm Dobson, from Harlem," came the answer. "Get a lot of oil for you, and wish to send it on at once. Be ready to receive it."

Presently the merchant returned, and, to his amazement, saw the woman holding an empty bucket under the telephone tube.

"What on earth are you doing with that pail?" he asked.

"Well, sir," she replied, "as soon as you was gone a man shouted through the tube that he was sending a large supply of oil, and ask some one to receive it, so I'm a-holding this bucket a-waiting for it to run through!"

REMORSE

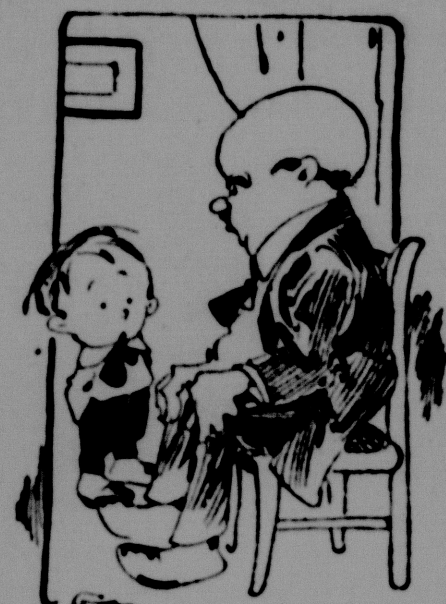

"What is remorse, pa?" "Remorse, my son, is the feeling that comes over a man in July when he remembers how he found fault with the cold and blustery days of March."

ON THE JOB

"I tell you you can't beat my wife for presence of mind," said the man at the club, proudly. "Listen to this. One day last week an old gossip of our neighborhood called, and I left her and wife alone in the parlor."

"An hour later, having the impression that our caller had departed, I bounced into the room with, 'So the old cat has gone, eh?' Well, as I lifted my eyes, there was the woman herself in front of me. But my wife—bless her—was there with the goods."

"Yes, dear," she said, calmly, "I sent it to the cats' home in a basket first thing this morning."

HIS CHANCE

"Say, pop, what is meant by letting well enough alone?" "A good example of it is when an unmarried man just continues to remain single."

THE PERILOUS YEARS.

Justice Ford of New York was discussing his famous dictum: "In my opinion it takes about five years for the ordinary couple to learn to overlook each other's faults." He said: "After five years of marriage a spirit of gentleness and loving kindness manifests itself. But in the first two or three years a spirit of the bitterest disillusion prevails."

"This bitter spirit was well illustrated in a dialogue wherein a young wife sobbed, 'And you used to say that you could hear the rustle of angels' wings whenever I drew near you!'"

"But I've found out now," the husband sneered, "that the sound was only the creaking of your broken corset bones."

HIS FATE

"There goes Webb. He had some bad opinions about me married that woman, didn't he?" "What became of his opinions then?" "He died them."

THE CASTORIA COMPANY, 27 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

A western representative in congress was talking one day of his record while in that body. "I am not ashamed of it," said he. "I think I've done very well, on the whole. When I reflect upon it, I am reminded of an epitaph that I saw once in an old burying-ground in a country town of my state."

"This epitaph devoted a verse of four lines to the virtues of the good man who lay beneath the stone, and concluded with this line in prose: 'He averaged well for this vicinity.'—Lippincott's.

A Valuable Man.

"Yes, he had some rare trouble with his eyes," said the celebrated oculist. "Every time he went to read he would read double."

"Poor fellow," remarked the sympathetic person. "I suppose that interfered with his holding a good position?"

"Not at all. The gas company gobbled him up and gave him a lucrative job reading gas meters."—Lippincott's.

He Didn't Stop.

The young man was endeavoring to kiss the young lady, evidently against her will.

"Don't! Stop!" she cried. The young man, having but an indifferent education, didn't stop.

Whq, of Course.

He: "How clean the surf the sea shells." She: "Yes, you know it very tidy."—Lippincott's.

THE ANGEL'S WINGS.

"Why do they call a theatrical backer an angel? He hasn't wings?" "No, but his money has."—Baltimore American.

VIEWPOINT.

"Say, Pa, what is your idea of the simple life?" "Being allowed to sit around in my shirt sleeves, my boy, especially in summer."

Teacher—"What is a synonym?" Boy—"It's a word you can use in place of another when you don't know how to spell the other one."

You'd Like a Second Cup of Coffee—

And maybe a third, at your dinner. But you are afraid of it. Coffee makes you nervous—gives you a headache—heartburn—or indigestion. "Here's a cup that smells like fine coffee—" "Tastes like fine coffee—" "It is fine coffee—isn't it?" "Never mind. Drink as many cups as you like. It won't hurt you, no matter how sensitive your stomach is. It is good for you!" "Well, if it is not coffee it must be

Fitch's Grains of Health

The Coffee Substitute With the Coffee Taste

The only substitute in all the world that has the coffee flavor and the coffee satisfaction—without one of coffee's bad after-effects.

In coffee, it is caffeine that causes all the trouble.

In Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH a special high-grade blend of coffee is so combined with roots, herbs and vegetables that the caffeine is counteracted. The combination has a health building effect. Physicians recommend it. Even children can drink it.

Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH is sold by all leading grocers. The price is 30 cents the pound package. It is just as easy to prepare as coffee. But only half as much of Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH is required as coffee. Therefore it costs only half as much as good coffee.

If your grocer cannot supply you, write or telephone for sample, and we will send you a generous sample packet of Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH (enough to serve a large family of health) and a booklet telling you all about Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH. Samples & cards in shape for postage.

IT'S HEALTHIFIED!
